Rain-Making Tests Blamed For Floods In Missouri Valley

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)— The man who fathered the science of making rain said today he believes armed forces experiments may have caused the disastrous Missouri Valley floods of June 1952.

Dr. Irving Langmuir, a Nobel Prize winner and consultant for General Electric Co. experiments with rainmaking, also declared:

1. An Air Force test on a hurricane off the eastern coast Oct. 17, 1947, may have turned the storm off its course and pushed it into Savannah, Ga., with damage of five million dollars.

2. There is evidence that rainmaking in some areas may create drought in others.

Storms Get Bigger

Langmuir was interviewed while attending the International Arid Lands Symposium, where scientists from 18 nations are seeking answers to the rapidly growing arid regions which already cover a third of the earth's land surface.

He declared that he thinks now—and insisted at the time—that a single silver iodide generator operating at Alamogordo, N. M., under Project Cirrus caused the steady downpours which drowned the Missouri Valley three years ago.

"We had been seeding for some time, and the storms kept getting bigger and better. I told them (the armed forces heads administering the project) that I felt we ought to stop seeding as the rains in the Missouri Valley kept falling.

"But the administrator of the project was on vacation at the time. No one would take responsibility for ordering the seeding stopped.

Carried By Wind

"Finally, I told them we must stop, things were getting serious.

"We stopped on July 2. On July 7 the flood just about devastated Omaha."

Langmuir explained how a lone cloud generator in New Mexico could affect the weather so far away: The silver iodide particles are sent into the air, say, in New Mexico. Winds from the west blow them across the Mississippi, where they come in contact with moist air masses coming in from the Gulf of Mexico.

A particle of silver iodide about the size of a pencil dot is enough to affect a cubic mile of air weighing 100 million tons, Langmuir said. Once a storm has been started, it triggers other storms. And if the cloud seeder is restarted at intervals, you get rain at about the same intervals.

"If we had stopped our generator two weeks earlier," Langmuir said, "the Missouri Valley floods would not have happened."

Southwest Sucked Dry

Langmuir said that on Oct. 17 1947, an Air Force plane seeded a hurricane heading north off the East Coast. The storm turned 120 degrees, "which the Weather Bureau said was impossible," and smashed on to Savannah.

"There was not one chance in 7,000 that the hurricane would have turned if it had not been seeded," Langmuir said. "I had suggested that we wait until the storm was further north and out to sea to experiment."

Can rainmaking cause drought in other areas? Langmuir has documented one instance in which he feels this happened. A rainmaking generator was operated at set intervals in New Mexico from December to April 1949. During that period, the southeastern part of the country where the silver iodide particles drifted into moist air, got 220 per cent of normal rainfall.

The Southwest, on the other hand, had its driest spell in 30 years.

The reason? The southeastern storms, triggering one another, sucked in the moist Gulf air which normally flowed into the Southwest," he said.

Utah Widow, 75, 'Mother Of Year'

PLEASANT GROVE, Utah (AP)—A modest Utah widow, mother of eight grown children, left for New York City today to accept the title of American Mother of the Year.

She is Mrs. Lavina Christensen Fugal, 75, who knew hunger as a child and since has shrugged off adversity to raise a family and become a teacher, homemaker, churchwoman, farm leader and grower of prize flowers.

Mrs. Fugal modestly accepted congratulations from her neighbors for the honor and said "a wonderful husband and eight unusual children" were responsible.

A daughter of Danish immigrants, Mrs. Fugal obtained a teachers certificate at 18 and began giving lessons in Pleasant Valley schools. In 1900 she married Jens Peter Fugal, who died in 1945.

Mrs. Fugal, though busy with family and church work, has served as director of the Utah County Farm Bureau; president of the local farm bureau; board member of the Utah County Fair and the Utah State Fair; chairman of the Home and Community Department of the Utah State Farm Bureau; and a member of the Utah County Planning Board.

Buffalo Bachelor Fills His 3-Story Home With Trash

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A 70-year-old eccentric was held for hospital observation today while authorities took steps to clean up a mountain of junk and filth in his three-story home.

When health officials and firemen, equipped with gas masks, entered the home of Bayard Martin Wednesday, they were greeted with a waist-deep pile of trash from cellar to attic. The smell was insufferable.

Included in the rubble were at least 75 dead cats, many of them "embalmed" in mothballs. Thirty-four live cats and three dogs were found penned amidst litter and filth in the basement.

Martin, a bachelor, said he had lived alone since his brother married five years ago. He said he was an insurance broker who had "paid $22,500 in city taxes this year."

A city judge ordered him to a hospital for examination.

Jail Term Given In Fake Kidnaping

FAIRFAX, Va. (AP) — James C. Stanley, 23, was given a one-month jail term Wednesday after being convicted in Fairfax County Trial Justice Court of trying to obtain $5,000 by faking a kidnaping.

Stanley's wife received a series of threatening telephone calls from a stranger who demanded the money if she wanted to see her husband alive again. During the calls, she talked to Stanley, who said he was "tied up" and suggested she try to get the ransom from his parents.

Police later exposed the attempt and Stanley admitted paying a man $5 to call his wife. He told police he wanted the money as a down payment on a house and figured his folks owed him the money.

Slayer Of Dentist's Wife And Maid Hunted At Clarksburg, W. Va.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—Police looked to autopsy reports today to give them some clue in their search for the slayer of the socially prominent wife of a Clarksburg dentist and the family's part-time maid.

The two women, Mrs. Frances Laughlin, 44-year-old wife of Dr. Carl A. Laughlin, and the maid, Mrs. Joan Bland, 31-year-old divorcee, were found shot to death in the Laughlin's fashionable ranch-style home Wednesday.

Son, 8, Finds Bodies

An 8-year-old son, Mark, discovered the bodies when he came home from school for lunch.

"We're not holding anybody at the present time," State Police Sgt. T. A. Welty said early today. "We still have troopers out checking several angles right now. But we don't have a thing yet."

Dr. Laughlin, 42, said he knew no reason why anyone would want to kill his wife. Preliminary investigation failed to show anything of value had been taken.

The dentist was at his office, about six blocks away in downtown Clarksburg, when a neighbor telephoned him what had happened. He called the fire department rescue squad, which in turn notified police.

Struggle Indicated

Coroner Kenna Jackson, who examined the bodies about 1:30 p.m., estimated the two women had been dead about three hours.

Each had been shot in the head.

"It looked like there might have been a struggle," Jackson said. He said there was a bruise on the chin and face of Mrs. Laughlin and her lips were cut inside, "like she had been struck in the face." Her hands and shoulders were badly scratched.

Mrs. Bland, who worked for the Laughlins on Wednesday and Saturdays, had been bound with cord about the hands and feet. Her mouth had been taped. Her body was lying face down on the living room rug. Mrs. Laughlin's body was not tied.

Conant Nominated As Ambassador To German Republic

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today nominated James B. Conant to be ambassador to the new federal republic of Germany.

Conant, former president of Harvard University, has been serving as U. S. high commissioner to West Germany under the Allied occupation since Feb. 7, 1953. He assumed the personal rank of ambassador on June 17, 1953.

The White House said the nomination today is for a full ambassadorship in view of restoration of sovereignty to West Germany under recently ratified treaties.

Full sovereignty will become official when Britain and France deposit their instruments of ratification of the treaties which they are expected to do May 5.

Rebels Start War For Control Of South Viet Nam

SAIGON, Indochina (AP) — Flames burned a square mile of Saigon tonight and hundreds were killed or wounded in bloody flighting for control of South Viet Nam's government.

The American-supported Premier Ngo Dinh Diem declared war to the finish against the rebel Binh Xuyen Society after a triple attack on Diem's palace, army and police headquarters.

Three battalions of nationalist infantrymen and parachute troopers, using machineguns and supported by tanks, pressed the attack on the society of former river pirates' 5,000-man private army.

At nightfall, with Saigon under a pall of smoke, the Premier appealed over the government radio for calm. He said the government troops had the situation in hand.

He accused Binh Xuyen Gen. Le Van Vien of touching off a civil war and disobeying an order from Chief of State Bao Dai to refrain from violence.

After six hours of fighting the army said it had disengaged the Binh Xuyen from both nationalist army headquarters and the headquarters of the National Surete, or security police, where there had been some hand to hand fighting.

Massed nationalist forces were pressing the Binh Xuyen back toward the bridge which leads to their territory in Cho Lon, about seven miles from the French residential business area.

School Building Loans Restricted

LANSING (AP)—The senate may vote today to set up machinery for loaning the 100 million dollars in school construction funds which the voters approved at the April 4 election.

A bill to implement the ballot proposal No. 4—went through debate in the senate Wednesday.

Sen. Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek) attached an amendment banning state loans for school auditoriums, gymnasiums and athletic fields.

The bills are aimed at making certain the state loans are used to expand class room space.

They specify that the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, who will approve the loans, may grant them only for projects meeting reasonable cost standards fixed by the State Board of Education, are actually needed, will not hinder school district reorganization in the foreseeable future, and are for projects of not less than six classrooms unless he finds that for reasons of location, topography, transportation or population density a smaller unit would be advisable.

Railroad Strike Ruins Harlan, Ky.

HARLAN, Ky. (AP)—This community's economic heart died March 14.

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad was struck that day and one of the first casualties was Harlan County's 6,500 coal miners.

All are out of work. They're worried; the operators are worried; and some businessmen are preparing for a slump.

Since he is losing $18.75 a day in wages, the miner must fall back on unemployment compensation—$28 a week. Before the strike the county's average claim load was about 2,000 cases a month. Now it is four times greater.

Most of the coal firms are helping by extending credit to their men at the company stores. Some permit unlimited credit; others $4-$5 a day.

Privately, some miners will admit their sympathy lies with the strikers. When the coal mines were strike-bound during the war years, it was the railroader who suffered.

What about the miner's boss?

"Until March, our picture looked better than it had for two or three years," says George S. Ward, secretary of the Harlan County Coal Operators Assn.

"We had prospects of increased shipments to the Great Lakes but the strike has gone on so long, some firms have lost these orders."

The Harlan field ships 8 million tons or more of coal a year and has shipped as high as 14 million. But Ward says the operators are afraid customers will turn to another field next year.

Time is also a factor. The railroad plans a 35 cent a ton rate increase on steam (fine) coal on June 20 and most operators want to get their orders filled before then.

Russia Would Lose If She Went To War Today, Says Gruenther

WASHINGTON (AP) —Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther says that the Russians, despite their strength in Europe, "would lose . . . if they went to war today . . . because of our overwhelming air capability."

Gruenther, North Atlantic Treaty Organization commander in Europe, said the Soviets are "having plenty of trouble" and "may well be overextending themselves" in view of complex domestic economic problems.

In closed-door testimony given to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee March 26 and made public today, Gruenther said: ". . . These folks are having trouble. There is a creaking in the machinery."

Gruenther said he is "very much afraid that we overestimate from time to time their capabilities, which are already high enough," and he added:

"By our own introspective horror and consideration of our own fears, we actually make ourselves, in my opinion, tools of the Soviets — unwitting tools — and from the standpoint of the determination and stoutheartedness that is necessary in dealing with the Soviets, we serve our own interests badly."

Gruenther said Soviet satellite forces in eastern Europe are "not strong enough to overwhelm the shield" of NATO forces.

Most heartening factor in Europe the general said, is that "the Soviets are not in the same league with us" in capacity to deliver nuclear weapons.

Arson Indicated In Spectacular Hotel Holocaust

CHICAGO (AP)—Separate fires in a hotel and an apartment building claimed at least 12 lives today.

The bodies of eight victims, including that of a fire captain, were recovered from ruins of the hotel. The other four victims, including three children, died in the apartment house blaze.

Jump To Safety

Twenty-two residents of the four-story hotel, near downtown Chicago, leaped from upper floors of the hotel and were injured.

Coroner Walter J. McCarron and a fire department official declared the hotel blaze was set by an arsonist. Police said they were seeking to determine if both fires resulted from arson.

The two stricken buildings are a half mile apart in the Halsted Street - Milwaukee Avenue district on the city's near Northwest Side. Fire officials said both fires occurred around midnight.

Captain Trapped

Eight bodies were recovered from the hotel ruins as the search for victims continued.

Identified victims of the hotel blaze included Fire Captain Edward Duller, 45, Hansford Meek, about 50, Lyle LaRiviere and Stanley Wozniak, about 65. Unidentified were the bodies of two women and a man and a badly mangled body whose sex was not determined immediately.

More than 100 persons fled to safety from the burning structures, with several hotel guests rescued by firemen.

Fire Atty. Earle Downes said the fire at the Green Mill Hotel at 518 N. Green St. was set by an arsonist. He said an investigation disclosed that explosions preceded the fire and flames shot up from the middle of the second floor stairs.

80 In Hotel

There were more than 80 persons in the hotel, which contains about 75 small apartments, when the blaze broke out. Many of the residents leaped from upper story windows and suffered injuries. Of the more than 20 injured, six were firemen.

Damage to the hotel was estimated at $50,000 by Chief Fire Marshal Albert Petersen.

The three children and their uncle perished in a fastspreading fire at 658 N. May St. The dead were Levi Spencer, 19, Susie May Erwin, 6, her sister, Helen, 4, and their brother Charles 2. Their bodies were found on the fourth floor.

Earlier Spencer had been identified as John R. Erwin 30, father of the children. He was at work when the fire broke out. His wife and a year-old daughter escaped.

About 50 occupants of the apartment building escaped without injury. The cause of the blaze was not determined. Damage was estimated at $7,000 by fire officials.

House Approves Workmen's Bill

LANSING (AP)—Still blowing sour notes, Democrats jumped on a Republican bandwagon Wednesday to push a liberalized workmen's compensation bill through the House by a 106-0 vote.

Democrats gave reluctant but unanimous support to the Republican-sponsored measure after both parties closed ranks solidly in a two-hour battle over amendments.

If the Senate approves the measure and it is signed by Gov. Williams, maximum weekly payments for an unemployed worker with five or more dependents would be raised from $42 to $54.

The new rate schedule calls for increases of from $1 to $12 weekly, depending on the size of the family.

Single men or men with working wives, however, would continue to receive a maximum of $30 weekly.

The bill makes no change in the maximum length of payments, which will remain at 26 weeks.

Reuther Raps Tactics Of NAM

DETROIT (AP) — CIO President Walter Reuther says the National Assn. of Manufacturers is conducting a "fear campaign" against the guaranteed annual wage.

Reuther told the CIO United Paper Workers convention Wednesday the NAM "has been resisting progress so long they can't get out of the habit." And he repeated earlier charges by the union, denied by the NAM, that the NAM is raising a 30 million dollar "war chest" to combat the annaul wage.

The union chief also said he will "very soon" enter the CIO United Auto Workers negotiations with General Motors Corp. and the Ford Motor Co. for a guaranteed wage. Reuther heads the UAW as well as the CIO.

Miner Kills Two; Tries Suicide In Prison Hospital

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Charles Klevis, 28, captured by police after a shooting spree Wednesday in which he held his own mother hostage, tried to kill himself in a prison hospital.

When left unattended for a moment, the unemployed coal miner, broke a window, then used a jagged piece of glass to slash his wrists and throat. He is expected to live.

Klevis was captured in nearby Frackville, as he tried to escape as police surrounded his mother's home. He had shot and wounded a sister-in-law, Mrs. Cecilia Klebash, 41, and her daughter, Charlotte, 15.

The fracas started over divorce plans of Klevis' wife, Betty, who was staying with Mrs Klebash.

Police bullets wounded Klevis, but not seriously. He was charged with assault with intent to kill.

Experts Affirm Faith In Salk Polio Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP)—Public health authorities expressed anew today their confidence in the Salk polio vaccine, even as they checked the possibility that some batches from one of six makers may have been faulty.

Intensive tests were ordered after it was reported that eight children had been stricken by polio—one fatally—within a week of receiving their first polio shots. Four others suspected cases of the disease were reported.

Recheck Ordered

In each case, the vaccine used was manufactured by the Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif., which said more than 750,000 doses of its product had been issued.

As a "precautionary measure," all further use of Cutter vaccine was ordered halted pending tests, and the inoculation program was stopped in most of the West Coast areas where it was supplied for free use in the schools.

But Surgeon General Leonard Scheele of the Public Health Service called for continuance of the program in other areas of the country, where vaccine supplied by five other drug firms have been used without reported incident.

May be Coincidence

"We believe that the immunization program against poliomyelitis should continue," he said in a statement, "and I urge that parents and children scheduled to take part in the vaccination program continue to follow their plans."

He said his own 7-year-old son will receive his first shot as scheduled early next month.

Meantime, federal and state authorities worked in California to determine whether it was faulty vaccine or merely coincidence which caused the polio cases at this time.

Five of the eight diagnosed cases and three of the suspected ones occurred in California. Two other cases were reported from Pocatello, Idaho, and one from Chicago. Another suspected case was reported from Denver, where a 13-month-old child had been inoculated with vaccine supplied through commercial channels.

Officials said it normally takes 10 to 14 days after exposure for polio to develop, and emphasized it is possible that all the stricken children were developing the disease before they received their shots.

Schoolboys Duck Train In Tunnel

EVERETT, Wash. (AP)—Five boys, aged 14 and 15, dawdling along on their way home from school were seen entering a railroad tunnel here Wednesday.

A horrified witness called police, shouting a warning that a fast-moving streamliner train was due in a few minutes.

Police and firemen from all over town started moving toward the entrance to the 2,440-foot tunnel. Railroad officals waited helplessly—the streamliner had left the yards and couldn't be stopped. Police reached the tunnel just as the train roared into it, and too late to stop it.

As soon as the train was through, they entered from both ends. Inside were five scared and grimey boys. They had thrown themselves into a muddy ditch just in the nick of time.

Bomb Kills Policeman

BUENOS AIRES (AP)— A terrorist's bomb exploded and killed a policeman Wednesday while it was being examined by disposal authorities. It was found in the headquarters of a student organization which supports President Juan D. Peron.

Don't Miss Escanaba's Home Show At The U. P. Fairgrounds

1st Annual Escanaba Home Show Opens 3-Day Stand Tomorrow

Jaycees Sponsor Event At Fairgrounds; Many Varied Displays, Prizes

With 31 big and varied displays of interest to all home owners and prospective home owners, the first annual Escanaba Home Show, only Junior Chamber of Commerce promotion of its kind in the Upper Peninsula, will open tomorrow evening for a three-day stand at the U. P. Fairgrounds.

The 23,200-square-foot exhibition building will be opened at 6 tomorrow evening to start the big home show that has already caught the fancy of exhibitor and the public alike. Off to a slow start when the idea was first proposed, the home show promotion began to generate interest in February and the last few weeks have seen enthusiasm and interest rise to a peak.

With no admission charge and scores of merchandise prizes valued at more than $1,000 to be offered, residents and visitors from all points in the Escanaba area are expected to take in the novel show and go home packed with ideas of how they can best and most economically improve their present homes or plan for future residences.

Opening and closing hours for the three-day show follow:

Friday—6 to 10 p. m.
Saturday—1 to 10 p. m.
Sunday—1 to 10 p. m.

With a total of 524 feet of frontage, 31 exhibits are in place in an oval pattern in the huge exhibition building. Merchants, retailers and wholesalers, and several automobile dealers have arranged attractive exhibits. Many merchants and their staffs have been working for weeks to construct unusual displays designed to catch the eye.

Annual Affair

The visitor is sure to find plenty of interest in this first Escanaba home show, and if it is the big success the sponsors and merchants have every reason to believe it will be, it will be an annual affair and a progressively bigger and better spring promotion for Escanaba.

"We're very happy at the response thus far and assure everyone that if it is a success, we will do everything we can to make it bigger and better in future years," Jack Manning, Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce president, said this morning.

"We think the show is particularly timely. Escanaba is expanding and practically everyone's thoughts in the spring turn toward cleaning, painting, fixing and general home improvement. We think the Fairgrounds exhibition building is an ideal place for such a home show, and we certainly want to thank merchants who have demonstrated confidence in the plan by working hard to arrange some very fine exhibits."

It's A Natural

The general consensus of all persons who have had something to do with planning the show and with those who have declared they certainly intend to "take it in" is that the Escanaba home show is a natural to become a well-established annual spring promotion that will be a boon to the city and the Escanaba area.

Key men in the Jaycee promotion are the home show committee consisting of Harold Cloutier and Al Lord, co-chairmen; Duncan Cameron, Jack Manning and William Gardner, sales; Ben Johns, prizes; William Meiers, publicity, and William Servant, treasurer. Many others have helped and many merchants responded wholeheartedly to the first call for exhibits.

Similar shows are held in Lansing, Niles, Grand Haven and other Lower Michigan communities, even the small town of Howell, but this is the first Jaycee home show in the Upper Peninsula. The Calumet Armory is the scene of an annual autumn home show, but this is sponsored by the Calumet firemen.

Emphasis On Displays

Many persons who claim to know a great deal about what makes a home show tick have expressed concern that no entertainment has been provided for the first annual local home show.

To this the Escanaba Jaycees answer that the emphasis is on displays for the benefit of the public and the merchants who are showing their wares and who spent considerable time and money in preparing costly exhibits.

"The Jaycee promotion kit containing the most successful ideas and organizational plans from home shows throughout the United States points out that entertainment detracts from emphasis on the show itself," Manning said.

"Promoters know from past experience that entertainment can be a detracting influence. For instance, a merchant and prospective customer might be right in the middle of an interesting discussion about some product to benefit the home when the blast of a horn or roll of the drums would announce the next number and the opportunity for mutual gain would be lost.

Variety Is Keynote

"We want this to be a first rate home show, not a vaudeville performance."

So, instead of entertainment and hullabaloo, Escanaba's home show will present wide variety in 31 attractive displays, new ideas in home repair and building, exhibits of associated businesses, automobile displays, scores of door prizes, free coffee and cookies, doughnuts, cakes and other tasty baked good available at a nominal price.

All in all, the spring show shapes up as a well planned promotion that will have something of interest to all residents of this area.

Bids Opened On Airport Project

MARQUETTE—Issuance of the general contract for the construction of a central heating plant, water distribution lines and a sewage disposal plant at the K. I. Sawyer Airport was deferred Wednesday pending approval of bids from the United States Air Force regional installation representative in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The apparent low bidder for the project, third in a series of critical projects which must be completed in order for the airfield to be occupied by the end of the year, is the Hoyle-Newberg Construction Company of Iron Mountain.

Hoyle - Newberg's proposal totalled $1,437,000. There were eight other contracting firms which submitted bids on the project.

Completion date for the project is the end of December. Work will commence as soon as the District Corps of Engineers, agent for the USAF in airfield construction projects, obtains authorization to proceed from the Air Force installation representative.

Begins Within Week

The Corps of Engineers then will wire acceptance to the contracting firm, which must furnish the complete bond and sign the contract. This process will take approximately one week.

Hoyle - Newberg already has been awarded one major contract for the construction of the K. I. Sawyer Jet Air Base. It totals $1,827,000, and covers the general building contract for hangers, barracks and a mess hall. The contract was issued March 25.

The first general contract, for construction of airfield pavements, was awarded to S. J. Groves & Sons Company, Minneapolis, on March 10.

Colonel Arthur C. Nauman, district engineer for the Detroit Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, said contract prices are being checked.

"We hope to get that approval within a day," Col. Nauman told the newspaper. Colonel Ivins Browne is the USAF regional installation representative in Cincinnati.

Other Bids Listed

Other bidders for the third critical contract and the amounts of their proposals follow:

C. & C. Construction Company, Fort Wayne, Ind., $1,465,064.85; Cherney Company, Ironwood, $1,589,856.06; H. P. Reger & Co., Chicago, $1,591,468.85; Detweilers, Inc., Twin Falls, Idaho, $1,602,030.83.

C. A. Hooper Company, Madison, Wis., $1,632,301.40; Proksch Construction Company, Iron River, $1,640,889.73; Distel Heating Company, Lansing, $1,662,725.60, and Rudum Brothers, St. Paul, Minn., $1,706,882.64.

Other critical contracts and the dates when bids will be opened are as follows:

1. Electrical distribution system, Friday, April 29.
2. Buildings and fuel facilities, Tuesday, May 10.
3. Bulk storage warehouse, Friday, May 20.

The second contract listed above (buildings and fuel facilities) will cover the construction of:

Officers dining hall, parachute and dinghy shop, group headquarters building, crew readiness building, two igloos (for storage of explosives), rocket storage and checkout and assembly building, base communications building, jet fuel storage and dispensing facilities and aviation gasoline storage and dispensing facilities.

2-Million Dollar Payroll

Walter Wisti, of the Corps of Engineers staff, will set up an office at Sawyer Airport, located in Sands Township, within two or three weeks. He will be the project engineer for the construction of the multi-purpose jet base.

The Sawyer jet air base will represent an expenditure by the U. S. Government of around 12 million dollars.

There will be around 1,500 personnel assigned to the field, about 1,200 of whom will be airmen. The government's annual payroll for airmen and civilian personnel after the field is in full operation will approximate two million dollars.

Man wanted to work in dynamite factory. Must be willing to travel.

The above ad appeared in a French newspaper. We often wondered who took that job.

And speaking of traveling where would you go to find anything that would clean carpets like the new Triple Strength Fina Foam.

It's made from an entirely new formula. You add water to turn one gallon of concentrate into three gallons of ready to use foam cleaner.

Another innovation is the long handled brush to apply the foam that makes cleaning so easy. The nap is left open and fluffy. The dirt is removed consequently there is no rapid resoiling. One gallon of concentrate for $2.25 cleans three 9x12 rugs.

Vote Postponed:

New Factors Revealed In Talks On Power Problem

An advisory election on the Escanaba power question, scheduled for May 16, has been postponed to give the City Council and a committee of citizens, assisted by consultants, an opportunity to further consider the problem and its solution.

The decision to postpone the advisory election was made by the City Council at a special meeting last night in City Hall, after new developments were revealed relating to the power problem and its solution.

Originally the City Council had ordered the advisory vote to obtain the preference of the people on two proposed solutions: 1—The purchase of wholesale electric power from Alger-Delta Electric Cooperative; or 2—Construction of a municipal generating plant. The election was ordered after Escanaba citizens, by a vote of two-to-one, on April 4 rejected a proposal by the Upper Peninsula Power Company to purchase the city's electric distribution system.

Engage Consultants

Then the Power Company returned with another proposal: To lease and operate a municipal power plant, to pay off the revenue bonds and interest, and to sell the city wholesale power at a rate of 1 cent per kilowatt hour.

The City Council named a special committee of citizens to study the proposal. Comprising the committee is Atty. Wheaton Strom, John Greene, Herbert Flath, Robert Losse and Andrew Skaug.

This committee, through its ex-officio member, City Manager A. V. Aronson, last night informed the Council that it needed the assistance of an electrical engineer in a consulting capacity; and that its report would not be ready prior to the May 16 advisory referendum. The advice of bonding attorneys was also desired. The Council authorized the city manager to engaged the services of an electrical engineer and bonding attorneys.

REA Financing

Information related to the power problem solution was brought out last night when the City Council met with representatives of the Alger-Delta Cooperative and an official of the Rural Electrification Administration.

It was revealed in the discussion that REA could and has made loans to municipalities to construct generating facilities to supply power to electric cooperatives serving rural areas; and that the Alger-Delta Cooperative has made minor changes in its proposed wholesale power contract with the city, and would like a Council decision on the offer as soon as possible.

In other business the Council approved the bid of Dr. Frances Anderson to purchase one lot on Lake Shore Drive, opposite the Athletic Field, at a price of $3,060; and approved other bids as follows:

Falley Petroleum Company to supply the city with 40,000 to 60,000 gallons per month of propane gas at 2.79 cents per gallon; Great Lakes Asphalt Company, 10,000 gallons of emulsified oil for streets at a price of $1,311; Standard Oil Company, asphalt street materials, $14,150.

Need Area Cooperation To Solve Power Problem, REA Official Tells City

The Rural Electrification Administration, in granting a loan to Alger Delta Cooperative Electric Association for the construction of an electric generating plant in Escanaba, is "not trying to cram anything down Escanaba's throat," Ralph Foreman, Washington, D. C., special assistant to REA Administrator Ancher Nelsen, last night told the Escanaba City Council.

Foreman talked at a special meeting of the Council in City Hall and voiced a plea for area cooperation in solving the power shortage to the greatest benefit of the people of the area.

Alger-Delta Electric Cooperative is offering the city of Escanaba a 10-year contract to supply the city with wholesale "excess" power from a generating plant to be built with funds loaned by the REA. The $8,257,000 loan has been approved to build the $4,000,000 generating plant, purchase some rural lines of the Upper Michigan Power Company, and extend the Cooperative's lines to provite additional service to rural residents.

Study Contract

Foreman declared that he has worked closely with private power companies in the region and suggested that the city of Escanaba, the Cooperative and private power companies "get together to solve this problem—for that is the only way to get this done in the end."

Wynand Nieuwenkamp, manager; William VanEffen, engineer; and Atty. Clair Hoehn, represented the Alger-Delta Cooperative in the discussions with the City Council last night. The meeting had been requested by Alger-Delta to coincide with Foreman's visit to Escanaba.

Nieuwenkamp submitted to the Council a slightly revised power contract (unchanged as to duration or rate) which the Council referred to City Attorney Denis McGinn for study.

Loan Still Stands

Development of plans for a power generating project and extension of transmission lines, upon which the REA based its loan, was outlined by Foreman to the Council. He noted that in the beginning Escanaba and Gladstone supported the Cooperative's application. Gladstone has since built its own generating plant.

Foreman said that he had met with John H. Warden, president of the Upper Peninsula Power Company, in an effort to work out a solution to the Alger-Delta problem. He also said that a private power company had later offered the Cooperative power at a rate which "was not so good that it changed the loan." Nieuwenkamp reported that the Cooperative is now paying up to 18 to 19 mills for wholesale power for one area that it serves.

City Councilman Robert E. LeMire asked a number of questions relating to REA's policy covering the granting of loans, and concluded by asking whether the REA would grant a loan to the City of Escanaba to finance a generating plant. The plant would them sell power to the Cooperative for its customers, he said.

For Rural Areas

Foreman replied that, in his opinion, the REA would grant a loan to the city to build a generating plant, in an amount to provide sufficient capacity to care for Alger-Delta's rural load. There is such a case in Minnesota and the municipality has been granted a loan, he said.

Several times Foreman noted that under the REA Act loans are made at 2 per cent interest over a 35-year amortization period to private and municipal and cooperative interests to "help provide electric power to people in rural areas."

In reply to a question, Foreman said that the loan to Alger-Delta was based in part on the assurance that the Cooperative, through a contract with the city of Escanaba, would have a customer for excess power during the early period of the loan while the rural load on the Cooperative's system is building up to use all of the capacity of the proposed 15,000 KW generating plant. Without such a buyer of surplus power, Foreman said he doubted the loan could be made to Alger-Delta.

The conference with Foreman and the Alger-Delta representatives ended on a note of urgency, with Alger-Delta Manager Nieuwenkamp asking for a decision on the proposed contract within 10 days.

Editorials—

Even Solomon Would Find Task Of Tax Allocation Board Knotty

HOW do you whack up a tax levy limited by law to 15 mills and divide it among governmental units that show a combined real need of about 21 mills and still keep everyone happy?

The answer, obviously, is that you don't. The tax allocation board found that out Tuesday night but it wasn't any surprise to them. They have been learning that lesson once a year since 1932 when the 15-mill tax limitation amendment was adopted in Michigan.

The tax allocation board voted to give eight mills to the county government and seven mills to the schools. This is the same division as a year ago and, of course, the action makes the school folks unhappy. They wanted at least an even split.

A lot of school districts have voted themselves out from under the tax limitation. Confronted with a dire need for more funds than they could get from a 15-mill tax split, these school districts have been successful in having the voters approve additional millage for school operation. More than half of the school districts in Michigan have done so, according to Supt. Wallace Cameron of the Gladstone Public Schools.

The problem is somewhat complicated in Escanaba, however. There is no certainty that school electors would vote to increase their taxes for school operation but if they did, local school officials are skeptical that the school finance problem would be solved by this action. They suspect that a part or all of any additional millage voted for school purposes would be lost to the school district by a reduction in millage at the hands of the tax allocation board.

Bad as the situation may be, though, it is better than it was a year ago. More money will be available to the schools and the county as a result of the Supreme Court decision that school districts are entitled to their tax millage on the basis of state equalized valuations rather than the county equalized valuations. The effect of this, at least in Delta County, is to provide the equivalent of approximately two additional mills in the tax pie to be divided. This will help the schools and it will likewise help the county which also needs more operating revenue.

The usual squabbles about valuation inequalities also continue to complicate the tax picture. City officials believe that more uniform assessments are established in Escanaba than in the townships and, further, that Escanaba assessments more nearly represent a true value for tax purposes than the township assessments. Township officials generally deny this and point out that a home in Escanaba is worth more than that same home would be in most of the townships. Escanaba residents, of course, pay taxes separately on their property to the city and to the county and schools. The township residents pay only a county-school tax.

All of these factors tend to complicate the picture and make the task of the tax allocation board members a truly difficult one.

It's spring sneeze time—with an ill wind that blows nobody good.

It won't be long until the girls will be talking about bathing suits, though they'll have little to speak of.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

Just about everyone, it would appear, is at least mildly interested in learning how many words he has in his vocabulary. That's the conclusion forced upon your columnist by the avalanche of mail—literally, thousands of letters—which greeted a recent piece on this subject, offering readers a self-scoring vocabulary test that would help them arrive at a realistic estimate of the number of words at their command.

We pointed out then that each of us has not one, but three vocabularies. The largest is our "recognition" vocabulary—those words which we understand when we hear them spoken or read them in print. Next in size is our writing vocabulary, and the smallest is our speaking vocabulary—because each of us has at least a small stock of words, the pronunciation of which he is unsure of and which he hesitates to attempt in speech.

Now still a fourth possibility is suggested by W. M. Wood of Encinitas, Calif. "It happens," he writes, "that I am fairly fluent in Spanish and also know many words in Latin, Greek, French, German, etc. in addition to my comprehensive grasp of English. In estimating my personal vocabulary, is it permissible for me to include all foreign words I can use and understand?"

An interesting query and one which I decided to put up to my polylingual friend Charles Berlitz, the "teacher of teachers" in the language schools which bear his name. M. Berlitz speaks more than twenty languages with a fluency sufficient to convince native-born speakers that he is one of them—a talent that Uncle Sam put to good use during the last war. He also speaks an uncounted number of native dialects and so seemed well qualified to answer Mr. Wood's question.

In a word, M. Berlitz says he considers it "unfair" to count foreign-language words as part of one's total vocabulary unless—like such phrases as "savoir faire" and "cul de sac"—they are usable in spoken English. The vast majority of other foreign words, he notes, would simply duplicate known English words and hence represent no extension of one's true vocabulary.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Ben Hogan, all-time golfing great, was foiled by fate one day when he tried to give a duffer the thrill of a lifetime. Ben and a friend were playing a practice round. They just had holed out on a short, three-par hole, its green partially surrounded by trees and traps. Suddenly, out of nowhere, a ball plopped down and trickled within two inches of the cup. Ben playfully tapped it in, and when a red-faced player came puffing up, Hogan held out his hand and said, "Mister, you're in for the biggest kick you ever got out of golf. Just look in that cup." The duffer did so, then hollered to a partner still hidden from view:

"Hey, Joe, whaddya know! I sank it for a seven!"

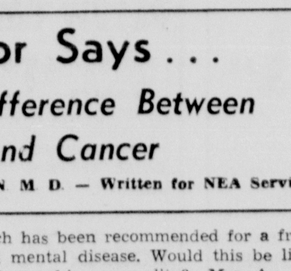
"I hear," said a dashing model to her roommate, "that your fiance is doing settlement work." "Yes, agreed the friend. "His creditors caught up with him."



The Doctor Says . . .

Explains The Difference Between Benign Tumor And Cancer

By EDWIN P. JORDAN M. D. — Written for NEA Service

I imagine the meaning of tumors puzzles a lot of people.

Q—What is the difference between a benign tumor and cancer?—Mrs. X.

A—A benign tumor and a cancerous tumor are both masses of new tissue which grow independently of the surrounding structures, have no uses and do not go away by themselves. The difference between a benign tumor and cancer lies in the behavior of the tiny cells which make up the tumor. In a benign tumor the cells multiply slowly or not at all and are not carried to other parts of the body. In a cancerous tumor the cells have peculiar and characteristic features involving rather rapid division and multiplication of cells, a tendency to spread into surrounding tissues and to be carried to other parts of the body. When a piece of tumor tissue is removed (biopsy), stained, and examined under the microscope, it is possible to tell whether it is "benign" or malignant.

Q—My nose is rather long. Could I have it corrected by a plastic surgeon?—C. B.

A—I am inclined to feel that the works of nature in this respect should be left alone. If you wish, you could, of course, consult a good plastic surgeon and get his opinion.

Q—Could you say something about the procedure called transorbital lobotomy which has been recommended for a friend with mental disease. Would this be likely to change his personality?—Mrs. A.

A—This operation involves the insection of an instrument into a part of the brain. In good hands it is quick and simple to perform. It has been used on many occasions with varying degrees of success so far as mental symptoms are concerned but is not performed unless there are good reasons for doing so. One would expect it would cause some changes in the personality.

Q—My child, age 2, has a skin condition which the doctor calls granuloma annulare. It seems to be going away now but I should like to know more about it.—Mrs. W.

A—This skin disorder consists of a nodule or ring of nodules in the skin. It is believed that in some cases it is related to tuberculosis of the skin and in others not. Treatment with various ointments, the application of X-rays or radium, or perhaps other methods, is usually successful.

Q—I read an article in a magazine several months ago which contained a long story describing bread as a deadly poison. What do you think of this?—Mrs. P.

A—I have not seen the article to which you refer, but I feel reasonably certain that if bread was a "deadly" poison we would have all been dead long ago.

Today In Europe

By DAVID LAWRENCE

PARIS—The "cold war," which has brought varying degrees of tension since 1945, appears on the surface to be entering a period of less tension, but actually the very opposite is true. As the chances of a "hot war" are reduced, the maneuvers in the "cold war" are intensified.

To understand what is happening in Europe, one must brush aside the assumption that the Communists have seriously intended to bring on a "hot war." For, if they did, they would be destroyed from within. The main objective has been and still is to win without fighting—to make inroads into the governments of the free world, to win the support of the wavering nations of the Middle East and Far East, and to tighten the Communist hold, and indeed enlarge it, in Europe, Africa and Asia. The Afro-Asian conference at Bandung was a big gain for the Communists on the propaganda front.

Broadly speaking, the Communists are winning ground constantly. This is not because of the strength of their own appeal but because of the lack of solidarity of the Western governments, which in turn are being weakened from within by selfish men who would rather win an election than stop the undermining tactics of the Communists.

HARMFUL TO PRESTIGE

The United States, of course, also suffers from this malady. While the Democrats, who are in control of Congress, are recorded in formal action as supporting the government, such belittling and snide comments as were delivered recently by Messrs. Truman and Stevenson and concurred in by various Democrats in Congress do not help American prestige abroad. Talking here with prominent persons among the diplomats from other countries who take a detached view of things political, one is impressed with their expressions of fear concerning democracy's internal dissension.

A newspaper editorial, for example, which at home merely reflects a criticism of the secretary of state that is passed off as perhaps natural by those who disagree with him is read here as a sign of widespread dissent in the United States. However firm the secretary's words may be and however they may be intended as a means of insuring allied solidarity, they are often interpreted, because of the speeches by partisan Democrats, as not representative at all of American purpose. This happens especially when comments that ridicule American policy come from Americans themselves.

This is war and, though it is called a "cold war," it is nonetheless a war in which the risks are great and the dangers to America cannot be underestimated. Yet the number of Americans whose writings and utterances are reproduced constantly in the European press and who repeatedly cast aspersions on the security as well as the intelligence of the topmost officials of the United States government is astonishingly large and creates no end of mischief in a "cold war." It all adds up to a thousand times more damage than the things for which McCarthy was berated by his critics.

The Communist propaganda is so active and so penetrating that all the millions of dollars wisely being authorized by Congress for better information services can hardly be of avail if the normal channels of communication are infected with the germs that the Communists spread so cleverly.

SOVIET STRATEGY

Today the Soviet strategy is just beginning to unfold its big weapons. The Western Allies were surprised by the sudden announcement that the Soviets were willing to sign a treaty with Austria after ten years. Inside the European countries this is being portrayed in many quarters as a big concession and as a sign that the leopard has changed its spots. Actually, it is the beginning of new moves in a desperate effort to wean a rearmed Germany away from the West and to intensify the rapidly growing neutralist sentiment on the European continent as well as in Asia.

The talk now is not so much about when Germany will be rearmed but about the Soviet chances of guilding a reunited Germany into being by Communist strategy that will appeal to the voters there on patriotic grounds. If Soviet Russia poses as the great "liberator" and offers a program of unification and if the Western countries should seem to be blocking such a goal, the opportunities of causing serious division in the German electrorate increase automatically.

So it is not the build-up of the armies that is to be the big factor in the next few months. It is the Soviet propaganda moves, plus the use occasionally of such irritating devices as the new Berlin blockade, which must be watched. The Communist objective is not to fight with arms but to represent the west as bellicose, especially on the matter of atomic weapons and nuclear tests, while continuing a steady infiltration of the west through political channels.

The Communists will not make Hitler's mistake—they think they will gain more ground not by a "hot war," but by the pressure method. They rely on the ease with which western peoples are scared by propaganda and on the schisms inside parliaments and congresses. They can only be thwarted by unity on the Western side—inside and outside of the governments in every country and between Allied peoples.

Genius Without Sight; Family Solves Unique Problem At Home

APPOMATOX, Va. —(NEA) — Mrs. George F. Abbitt Jr., proudly held out the report card of Peyton, one of her 13-year-old twin daughters. It was a long string of nothing but A's.

"She hopes to train to be a teacher," Mrs. Abbitt explained. "She's such a help now to her twin sister, Penny, and Nancy Jane, six, with their lessons."

In Peyton's case, it's the blind leading the sighted, for she has been sightless since she was 3 months old. And the fact that her family teamed up to make her adjustment to everyday life right in their own home undoubtedly is one big reason Peyton now stands in the genius bracket with an intelligent quotient of 150.

When Peyton's sight began to fail despite the efforts of top eye experts in the nation, the Abbitts found themselves faced with the difficult problem of raising girls who were twins in every way—except for the big difference of vision.

* * *

Most advisers urged them to place Peyton in a school for the blind.

"But we couldn't bear the thought of being separated from her," said Mrs. Abbitt. "We loved her too much. And we thought it would be harmful for the twins to be separated."

Instead, they engaged a teacher to come to their home so Peyton could start learning to read and write in Braille before she was ready to enter the first grade. She learned fast. When the twins started school, Peyton was already so far ahead she was promptly advanced to the second grade. Now in the eighth, she's been a grade ahead of Penny ever since.

"Being without sight, it seems, makes it easier for her to concentrate," said Mrs. Abbitt.

* * *

Except during school, the twins are nearly always together. Classmates help Peyton from class to class. All her textbooks are printed in Braille, but Peyton has taught herself to use the typewriter in almost flawless fashion.

An essay she turned out on it last year placed her among the top 12 in a national DAV contest on "What the American Flag Means to Me."

She's twice won the championship in the Appomattox County Spelling Bee, holds a number of school offices, and as a Girl Scout holds 14 merit badges (her twin, Penny, is even with her in Scouting).

As the twins grew up, Mrs. Abbitt said, she made sure Peyton did just about everything Penny did—"even if it was naughty."

"This," she went on, "meant encouraging her to do things we didn't really want her to do. But once doing them, she got a sense of proportion she otherwise might have lacked."

Today, about the only things the Abbitts have to do for Peyton is put on her lipstick for the weekly dances of the Bunny Hop Club, and see that her hair gets parted in the right place.

Mrs. Abbitt looked once more at Peyton's all-A report card and added: "The only place to solve a unique problem such as ours is right square at home."

FAMILIAR SCHOOLYARD SCENE in Appomattox is Peyton being guided to classroom by friend. She needs little other help.

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON
(NEA Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON— (NEA) — Prominent churchmen and church-affiliates have taken the lead in opposing the national military reserve plan now before Congress.

These same groups have in the past been successful in blocking peacetime conscription and universal military training. Their chances this year seem somewhat more doubtful, in view of the increasingly tense international situation. But final votes in Congress may be close.

Under President Eisenhower's modification of the old UMT proposals, emphasis is now put on building up a trained reserve of 2,500,000 men.

First reliance for maintaining the standing U. S. armed forces would be placed upon voluntary two-year enlistments, to be followed by six years' service in the reserves.

If enlistments failed to provide the necessary strength, men could be drafted for two years for this service.

* * *

AS AN OPTION, approximately 100,000 men a year might choose six months' military training, to be followed by seven and a half years in the National Guard or reserves.

All the arguments in opposition to this plan have just been assembled in a 25-cent pamphlet issued by National Council Against Conscription. Its title is, "The Facts About the Pentagon's New Conscription Plans." It seeks to answer 45 key questions on the extent to which this is a disguised UMT plan. It puts the costs at over one billion dollars a year.

Washington distribution to congressmen and the press was handled by the Friends' Committee on National Legislation, which also has a long record of opposition to peacetime conscription. There is no official connection between them. Both groups are registered with Congress as lobbyists.

Head of the National Council is John Swomley of New York, a prominent Methodist layman who was educated for the ministry. He has taken a leading part in opposing conscription. The council's executive director is Dr. Alonzo Myers of New York University's department of education.

* * *

OTHERS ACTIVE IN THE COUNCIL are Rev. George A. Butrick, Presbyterian chaplain at Harvard; Elsie Elfenbein, secretary of the National Council of Jewish Women; Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick, pastor emeritus of Riverside Church, New York, and two Catholic priests, Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire, O. S. A., and Rev. Allan P. Farrell, S. J.

It should be made clear that these members of the clergy speak only for themselves and not for their churches. The Roman Catholic bishops in America, for instance, have taken formal action to leave decision on this subject to the heads of government. The bishops regard UMT as a moral risk for the young men involved, however, and will watch it closely.

E. Raymond Wilson, executive secretary of the Friends Committee on National Legislation, in Washington, asserts that this year the opponents of conscription were cut short on their testimony before House Armed Services subcommittee. Mr. Swomley was given only seven minutes.

Principal argument of those opposing the Eisenhower administration's new plan is that it seeks to introduce permanent, universal, compulsory, peacetime conscription to the U. S. through the back door.

* * *

IN ORDER TO REMOVE THE CURSE of the UMT label from this program, Pentagon officials have been insisting that it is neither universal nor compulsory. It is put forward as a temporary program which would expire June 30, 1959.

Opponents point out that the armed forces have outlined the need for one billion dollars' worth of new armories for the first four years. These buildings would not be built if they were to stand idle for the years after 1960. They are to be built for intended continuous use.

Against these claims, says Raymond Wilson, it must be argued that after the 18½ year old makes his choice on whether to list, be drafted or serve six months, he has no option. Also, it is up to the military authorities—not the individual—whether he serves or does not serve. Mr. Wilson maintains this is universal and it is compulsory.

Veterans Home Loans Restricted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration expects to cut off by next week its guarantees of "no-no down payment" home loans.

The double negative description is given to financing plans under which even the usual settlement costs in a home purchase are covered by mortgage.

A VA spokesman said there is no intention to shut down on the much more common "no down payment" system under which the buyer pays the settlement charges but does not have to put up any cash toward the actual purchase price.

Settlement costs, covering numerous items such as examination and guarantee of title and preparation of documents, frequently run into some hundreds of dollars.

Thomas J. Sweeney, assistant deputy VA administrator, told the House Veterans Affairs Committee Tuesday about the plan to end the more liberal guarantees. He said it would have a "stabilizing effect" on the real estate market.

April Is Best Month Of 1955; Business Good

NEW YORK (AP)—April in many ways is shaping up as the year's best month so far.

True, few persons have good things to say about the April weather. And merchants complain about both the weather and the usual after-Easter letdown. But last week retail sales hit a stride faster than a year ago. And Mother's Day is just around the corner.

Production Hits Peak

In many factories production schedules set records in April. Output of raw materials hit peaks for the year in many cases. Reports of sales running 10 per cent to 33 per cent ahead of a year ago are common.

Automobile production is setting records this month. Some now see a new annual record output of cars in sight this year.

The Independent Petroleum Assn. of America reports a crude oil production in April was running in excess of 6,800,000 barrels a day—a pace it believes will have to slacken down.

Steel Orders Pile Up

Steel production this month is close to the highest on record. Some 10 million tons will be produced. And this week the steel mills have a good chance of tying or topping the all-time weekly record set in March 1953. New orders are coming in this month in sufficient numbers to keep the mills' output high for some time to come.

Machine tool orders are mounting. This month they topped last year by about 25 per cent.

April sales are running at the best rate of the year, Allied Chemical & Dye reports. They are maintaining the fast pace set in March.

General Electric reports appliance sales are one third higher than this time last year.

Sears, Roebuck says its sales are topping the year ago level by 10 per cent.

All Cars Charged $2.50 At Straits

LANSING (AP)—An increase in the tolls for cars on the Straits of Mackinac ferries, to go into effect April 30, was announced by the State Highway Department.

The toll charges for all cars will be $2.50 under the new schedule. The driver will be included in the charge. The fare for other passengers, 12 years of age and older, will be reduced from 35 to 25 cents. Children under 12 will be carried free.

The present rate is $2.00 for vehicles under 17 feet in length and $2.50 for cars over 17 feet.

Ionia Woman Lives On Borrowed Blood; Uses 105 Gallons

LIVES THROUGH TRANSFUSIONS—A battle for blood is the lot of Mrs. Ethel Kurnat, of Ionia, Mich. For 17 of her 61 years she has had to depend on others for her blood supply. She has received 840 pints of whole blood. (AP Photo)

IONIA (AP)—An unremitting battle for blood is the lot of kindly, gray-haired Mrs. Ethel Kurrnat.

For 17 of her 61 years Mrs. Kurnat has had to depend on others for her blood supply. She laughingly says, "I guess I don't own a pint of my own blood now."

She has received 840 pints of whole blood—the equivalent of 105 gallons—through transfusions. It is the only weapon doctors have against an incurable disease that constantly ruptures the small blood vessels throughout the gastro-intestinal tract.

Started In 1938

Known as familial hemorrhagic telangiectasia, it daily threatens Mrs. Kurnat's blood lifeline by severe nose and mouth bleeding, and loss of blood through other portions of the body, including beneath fingernails.

Her physician, Dr. John G. Tanheimer, says it is an "extremely rare disease, but as long as we can provide necessary blood replacement, it is not fatal."

Mrs. Kurnat first observed the disease in 1938 when she was stricken by sudden blind spells. Last year she received 140 transfusions and since January this year she has been given more than 40 pints of blood.

Because her blood reproducing machinery cannot make up for the loss, Mrs. Kurnat spends about five months of the year in hospital beds.

Red Cross Helps

There she receives the life-giving transfusions while recovering from the severe head pains, fainting spells and temporary blackouts that characterize the disease.

"Sure, I get discouraged," Mrs. Kurnat said, "but I have to accept it. There's no use knocking my head against a blank wall.

She says she literally couldn't live without the American Red Cross blood bank program, which supplies her constant need.

About 560 of her 840 pints of blood have come from the Red Cross. Before the blood bank was set up, Mrs. Kurnat relied on inmate donors from the Michigan Reformatory at Ionia and friends.

You Should Know Few Tips About That Old Hammer

How many householders don't own a hammer? Not many. For ever since prehistoric men fractured communal peace and a few incidental skulls with their invention, the hammer has been a fundamental household tool.

It has a long history, but it hasn't changed much, and neither has man. Visit a do-it-yourself-conscious community some weekend and you'll find the man-and-hammer din is terrific; occasional scoundrels still commit hammer mayhem, too, sadly enough.

Considering the progress we've made in other directions, though, most of us haven't learned much about hammers—about how to use them effectively. Even the D-I-Y chaps who enjoy more than a nodding acquaintance with hammers manage to tap out a blood - blister tattoo on their thumbs once in a while. It shouldn't happen if you handle a hammer correctly.

First of all don't use a hammer if the handle is loose. Besides being unsafe, it's more than likely to result in bent nails. Tighten the handle on the head by driving steel or hardwood wedges (they are especially made for the purpose) into the head-end of the handle. Never use nails or screws in place of wedges. If the handle is cracked, replace it.

For most work, grasp the hammer handle near the end in a handshake grip. For light work, or when you want to reduce the force of the blow, 'choke up" on the handle. Above all, be sure the handle is perpendicular to the nail at the time of impact. If it's more than slightly off perpendicular, the nail will bend, and that is more than slightly aggravating when you've done it several times.

Notice that the face of a good hammer head is slightly dome shaped. This compensates somewhat for an off-perpendicular swing. Don't throw away money on a flat-faced hammer.

On the subject of hammer buying, look for one whose weight is comfortable to hold. Wielding a heavy 20-ounce hammer may tire you quickly. The same is true if a light seven-ounce hammer is used in heavy carpentry, because it requires more strokes to do the work. A good, all-around hammer weighs 13 ounces.

Start a nail with two or three sharp taps rather than heavy blows. Hold the nail between thumb and forefinger at a point about midway of the nail shank and remover your hand before laying on hot and heavy with the hammer. This simple precaution may save considerable pain and embarrassment—and gauze bandages.

Whenever possible, nail on a slant. The result is greater holding power and stronger joints.

More often than not, hardwood will split if nails are driven near the ends of the boards. To avoid this nasty tendency, dull the tips of the nails first by holding them head down on a hard surface and tapping the points with your hammer. On the other hand, sharpening their points with a file gives nails greated holding power in softwoods.

Never strike finished woodwork with the face of a hammer. Use a scrap block of wood between the work and the hammer, and there'll be no danger of denting it. When driving finishing nails, don't pound the nail heads down flush with the wood surface. Stop short of that and use a tool called a nail set to finish.

A lovely mirror that's started to flake is a small tragedy. Most women feel they can't do anything about it, but they can. Cover the peeling spot with tinfoil applied with shellac, glue or dark paint.

Marilyn Peterson, William Stevens Exchange Vows

The Rev. Frank E. Peterson officiated at the double ring wedding of his daughter, Miss Marilyn Elaine Peterson, and Lt. William R. Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Stevens of East Troy, Wis., at the Salem Evangelical Church, Bark River, at 4 p. m., Saturday, April 23. Miss Peterson is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Frank E. Peterson, Bark River.

Baskets of yellow daffodils and yellow and white snapdragons and carnations amidst lighted candles adorned the altar for the afternoon ceremony.

Preceding the nuptial service, Clarence E. Burns of Norway, Mich., sang "Prayer Perfect" and "O Perfect Love" with the accompaniment of Mrs. Ruth Sutherland, also of Norway. After the vows were spoken, Mr. Burns sang "The Lord's Prayer." Organ music of the service was played by Miss Betty McNaughton.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her father, wore a floor length gown of imported French Alencon lace and net over nylon tulle and antique white taffeta. An off-the-shoulder effect detailed the net yoke of the fitted lace bodice fashioned with short sleeves. Four fan inserts of pleated lace detailed the bouffant skirt of fine net. Her fingertip veil was caught to a demicap of Alencon lace, seed pearls and pearl sequins, and her only jewelry consisted of a pearl necklace and earrings, gift of the bridegroom. She carried a cascade bouquet centered with a white orchid on her white nurse's prayer book.

Attendant In Yellow

Only bridal attendant was Miss Esther E. Stevens, sister of the bridegroom, of New York City. She wore a chapel length gown of pale yellow taffeta with a bolero and the full skirt of yellow nylon tulle. Hues of orchid satin formed the narrow belt with loops draped to the hem of the gown. Her headdress was of yellow taffets bands with a flower and scroll design. She carried a single deep colored orchid in cascade effect.

Robert Wendell Johnson attended the bridegroom as best man. Ushering the guests to their seats were Edward Larson of Moline, Ill., and Philip Larson of Rockford, Ill., both cousins of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore an afternoon gown of beige lace over taffeta. Her accessories were avocado. Mrs. Stevens attended her son's wedding in an afternoon gown of powder blue lace with pink accessories. Both mothers wore deep-hued orchid corsages.

Immediately following the service, a wedding reception for 250 guests was held in the newly decorated church parlors. The Ladies' Aid and Woman's Missionary Society of the church planned and prepared the refreshments, while the Teen Age Missionary Society members and councilors served in the dining room. They all wore white nylon tulle aprons with colored satin nosegays.

Reception Decorations

Also assisting at the reception were Mrs. Al E. Johnson, serving the wedding cake made by Mrs. Walter Martin; Miss Evelyn Bergstrom, pouring, Mrs. Harold Pirlot, serving punch, Mrs. Edgar Erickson, in charge of table appointments, and Mrs. Jack Krause and Mrs. Thomas Gironimi, Norway, were in charge of the gift room. During the reception, Thure Edward Larson of Moline, Ill., played organ music.

The church parlors were decorated with golden ring centerpieces centered with bride and bridegroom figurines under a ring in an arch effect on frills of white crepe, nylon tulle and sain loops with lilies of the valley and tiny everlasting flowers for a background. Other decorations were tall white tapers circled with lilies of the valley springs and white branches fashioned with white tulle flowerettes, all arranged by Mrs. Peterson and the Elmer Bolm family.

MRS. WILLIAM R. STEVENS, who repeated her marriage vows in a double ring ceremony April 23 at the Salem Evangelical Church, Bark River, is the former Miss Marilyn Elaine Peterson, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Frank E. Peterson, Bark River. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William S. Stevens of East Troy, Wis. Mr. Peterson solemnized his daughter's wedding (Portrait by Millie)

Immediate family members, the bridal party and out-of-town guests from a great distance were served a noon dinner at the Dells Supper Club. A bridal supper was held in the evening, and assisting were Mrs. Oscar Larson, Mrs. John B. Naser, Mrs. Ceil McNaughton, Mrs. Carl O. Gustafson, Mrs. Loren M. Aderman, Mrs. Hilding Olson, Mrs. Art Sundquist, Mrs. Thelander Nelson, Mrs. Chester Good, Mrs. Elmer Bolm, Mrs. Lawrence Bruce, Mrs. Walter Martin, Mrs. Mary Olson and Mrs. Emil Myrvall.

The bridal couple left immediately following the reception for a honeymoon trip to Salt Lake City, Utah, and other Western cities. For traveling, the bride wore a gold coat with push-up sleeves over a light green linen dress with white and gold accessories and a white orchid shoulder corsage. They will reside in San Diego, Calif., where Mr. Stevens is serving with the U. S. Navy.

Wedding Guests

Mrs. Stevens is a graduate of Norway High School and Augustana Hospital Nurses' Training School, Chicago. She last was on the staff of the V. A. Research Hospital in Chicago. A graduate of East Troy High School and the University of Wisconsin at Madison, the bridegroom finished officers' training at Newport, R. I.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. William S. Stevens, Mrs. Agnes Devlin and Mrs. Laura Hanson, East Troy, Wis.; Miss Esther E. C-C Election Slated Here

Members of the Top O' Lake Chamber of Commerce will ballot next week for four directors, Fred D. Heltman, executive secretary, reports.

The terms of James Broman, Everett Anderson, John Moffatt and Frank DeCelle are expiring. DeCelle has been serving for the past year in the vacancy created by the resignation of Alvin Nelson upon his appointment to the City Council.

Present terms expiring are in the retail, tourist, wholesale, utility and industrial, and general development divisions.

Tour Of City's New Water Station Will Be Highlight Of U. P. Institute Here

A tour of the new Manistique water pumping station, begun in 1953 and now nearing completion, will be among highlights of the seventh annual Upper Peninsula Water Works Institute here May 4 and 5.

Invitations were mailed this week by the Top O' Lake Chamber of Commerce to more than 100 Upper Michigan water superintendents, water plant operators, analysts, health officials and others interested in water treatment, distribution and supply. Between 75 and 100 are expected for the institute.

The annual meeting will begin Wednesday evening with a dinner at Paul Bunyan's Cook Camp. W. E. Smith, of Detroit, a director of the Michigan section of the American Water Works association, and T. L. VanderVelde, secretary of the section, will give short opening addresses.

Water Records

A demonstration of equipment for chlorination will be the main feature of the first session Thursday morning in the Lincoln school gymnasium. The demonstration will include assembling of a chlorinator, and explanation of its manufacture, operation and maintenance. Because chlorination is the universal method of water treatment, and most Upper Michigan cities use the gas method for purification, the demonstration is expected to attract many interested in water plants, as well as sewage treatment operators and swimming pool caretakers. Two officials of the Wallace and Tiernan company, W. E. Smith of Detroit and L. J. Beckman, of Chicago, will be in charge of the demonstration.

T. L. VanderVelde and John E. Vogt, members of the water supply section of the Michigan Department of Health, will be in charge of the Thursday afternoon program, during which water system records will be discussed and analyzed. General discussion of water works problems also is scheduled Thursday afternoon, as well as selection of the 1956 Institute site.

This is the first year Manistique has entertained the annual Institute. The first two were held in 1949 and 1950 in Iron Mountain, the third in Marquette, the fourth in Houghton, the fifth in Ironwood and last year's in Houghton.

Gierke On Committee

The institute will be preceded by a 2-day short course in the Lincoln School for Upper Michigan's water plant personnel. It will be conducted by the staff of Michigan College of Mining and Technology, in Houghton, in cooperation with the Michigan Department of Health and the Michigan Section, American Water Works association. Chlorination, flouridation, alkalinity, turbidity and flocculation will be among subject areas covered in the school.

The committee in charge of the institute is comprised of Frank Gierke Jr., of Manistique; Howard Greene, of Marquette; Frank Glashaw, of St. Ignace, and Russell L. Johnson, of Escanaba.

Both those attending the water plant school and the institute are being invited to the opening dinner meeting Wednesday night. Reservations are being made with Frank Gierke Jr., Manistique.

South Viet Nam Chief In Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP)—Special Ambassador J. Lawton Collins has reported to the government that Premier Ngo Dinh Diem faces grave and perhaps insurmountable difficulties to stay in power in South Viet Nam.

Diem is bitterly opposed by three religious sects seeking his ouster, and the French would like to see him replaced on the ground that his government lacks strength to unify the Communist - menaced country.

However, his regime has had the full support of the United States, and there were no indications of a change in that policy despite the reported gloomy appraisal by Gen. Collins, President Eisenhower's special envoy.

Collins, who returned last Thursday for consultations, reported in secret Tuesday to the Senate and House foreign policy committees.

Afterward, a senator who heard his report said the situation was "not hopeless" but that Collins felt that "stronger leadership" was needed to keep Southern Viet Nam from chaos.

This senator said, Collins reported the Reds in Northern Indochina also were having serious troubles in ruling their area. The Communists were given half of Viet Nam in last July's truce.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Newest Sprinklers Going Underground

Getting tired of dragging a hose around the lawn? Wish you had an automatic sprinkling system for the yard and flower beds? Then here is an idea.

A new sub-surface "install-it-yourself" lawn sprinkling system using a flexible plastic pipe has just been announced.

Designed primarily for home use, the pipe is so light that a man can easily carry a roll 400 feet long.

Because the plastic pipe is not affected by freezing temperatures, installation does not demand that it be buried below the freeze level. Instead a home owner merely lays out the pipe pattern he desires, and digs a trench four inches deep, taking about an hour and a half to install the whoel system. The pipe is placed in the shallow trench, and spray head units are attached with simple clamps between the pipe sections.

Two Things Feared By Soviets: All-Out War, All-Out Peace

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
(AP) Foreign News Analyst

PARIS (AP)—There are two things in this world the Soviet regime fears more than anything else. One is all-out war. The other is all-out peace.

This is the opinion of competent Western observers around the rim of the Iron Curtain in Europe today. They put it this way:

1. The retreat of Communist parties in Europe behind a "soft line" denotes Soviet worry over the possibility that Moscow may stumble into the all-out war it dreads at this moment. Most likely it would spell the end of Soviet communism.

2. Eruptions of international tension betray Soviet worry that the appearance of world peace surely would revive pressure from the Soviet population for a fairer share of the economy. That probably would lead to the rise of a new and far more radical Malenkov.

Fuse Sputters

If it were a matter of Europe and the Soviet Union alone, say the experts, the chances of war would be less today than at any time in the five years since the North Atlantic Treaty Organization was born. But there remains the sputtering fuse in Asia.

The idea that any war in any part of the world might turn into a general conflict is regarded as a powerful reason for Moscow to lay a restraining hand upon Communist China. Formosa is already valuable to the Communist world as a ready source of international tension when tension is regarded as necessary for the accomplishment of immediate Red purposes. The threat to "liberate" Formosa by force is enough to create the tension. But an attempt to carry out the threat could explode the possibility of ultimate disaster.

Line Through Europe

Aside from the threat in Asia, the other factors which could touch off world conflict are desperation, fear, miscalculation or accident. NATO is in the process of building strong deterrents to the first three and defenses against the fourth.

Across the middle of Europe and deep into the Middle East a line has been drawn. It runs from the Arctic through the middle of Germany. By means of the Balkan pact of Greece, Yugoslavia and Turkey, it rims Yugoslavia and links up with NATO again on the West's right flank in Turkey. There another link is established, through the British-Turkish-Iraqu pact, linking NATO's defenses with those of Britain in the Middle East.

The Russians dare not trespass across that line without risking a shower of hell on earth from a mighty combination of strategic air power.

Moscow, say the military experts, is not likely in the near future to launch any military attack westward.

NATO has made tremendous strides. There is no complacency among the officers of the 14 nations in the alliance. But there is rising confidence.

Home Mortgage Rules Tightened

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Housing Administration has tightened home mortgage rules, announcing it will require home buyers with government insured loans to pay deal closing costs in cash.

The move was coordinated with a similar one by the Veterans Administration. The VA is aiming at eliminating "no-no" home buying with government backing.

The double negative "no-no" description is given to financing plans under which even the usual settlement costs in a home purchase are covered by the mortgage, and there is no down payment. This has been described in recent months as a practice which could undermine housing credit conditions.

The Veterans administration has allowed "no-no" financing. A spokesman for the Housing Administration said it hasn't authorized mortgages to be written without down payments but has allowed closing costs to be included in the mortgage.

VA announced Tuesday it would require closing costs to be paid in advance where VA stands behind a home loan. No date was given when the rule will be effective.

Beginning with commitments made Thursday, FHA said, it will not insure loans where the home buyer is not required to pay closing costs in cash at the time of settlement. FHA will continue to require a down payment, a spokesman said.

Treaty Between U.S. And Canada Sought To Destroy Lamprey

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate committee Wednesday heard pleas for ratification of a treaty between the United States and Canada to rid the Great Lakes o fthe fish-destroying lamprey.

Witnesses from the State and Interior departments, testifying before a Foreign Relations Subcommittee, said practical means to eliminate the eel-like parasite have been found.

But, to make the program completely effective, cooperative action by the two countries is necessary.

Barriers Rigged Up

Such action is possible under the terms of a Great Lakes Fisheries Convention between the two countries. Ratification by the Senate and the Canadian Parliament is required.

Warren F. Looney, a special assistant in the State Department, told how the fish and wildlife service has devised an electric wire and mechanical barriers to destroy the pest.

Looney gave the committee startling figures on the destructive ability of the lamprey—particularly with respect to lake trout and whitefish.

The lamprey— at maturity it reaches a length of 18 inches or more—entered the upper Great Lakes from Lake Ontario after construction of the Welland Canal.

Prior to that the creature, which has existed in Ontario since prehistoric times, was denied access to lakes Erie, Huron, Michigan and Superior by the Niagara Falls.

The lamprey destroys fish by attaching itself to them with the suction-like cup of its mouth. It subsists by draining off the blood of the fish.

Losses In Millions

Looney said that before the lamprey infested Lake Huron the 1935 catch of lake trout totaled 1,743,000 pounds. But by 1951 the total catch was down to fifty pounds.

The toll in Lake Michigan, from which a 1943 catch of 6,800,000 pounds was made, was equally drastic. By 1952, Looney said, the catch had dwindled to 3,000 pounds.

The lamprey has now penetrated into Lake Superior—the most westward and the largest of the great lakes.

"The first adults from the scattered early spawning have now grown up in that lake," Looney said, "and the 'explosion' of population characteristic of this prolific creature . . . may shortly be expected to occur and may even by taking place now."

He said the lamprey loss to U.S. fishermen in lakes Huron and Michigan alone is about 3½ million dollars a year.

GREATER PLAYING SKILL NEEDED

IN VIEW of South's extremely optimistic bidding in the hand below, it was too bad that he couldn't find the one line of play that would give him a chance.

South dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

North: ♠ K J 8 5 ♥ A 7 6 4 ♦ A 10 2 ♣ K 8
West: ♠ 6 ♥ Q 10 8 3 ♦ Q 9 7 5 ♣ J 9 3 2
East: ♠ A 4 3 ♥ J 9 ♦ K J 8 6 2 ♣ 10 7 5
South: ♠ Q 10 9 7 2 ♥ K 5 2 ♦ 4 ♣ A Q 6 4

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♣	Pass	6 ♠	Pass
Pass	Pass

South's four-club call was of course completely unjustified because of his shaded opening bid, and North could not help being misled. South should have been more than satisfied to bid only four spades over North's raise to three.

West decided that the opponents must be solid in trumps, so he led his singleton rather than jeopardize any one of his honors. East put up the ace and returned a trump, letting South break suits for himself. South drew East's last trump, cashed three club tricks and ruffed a club—and finally handed a heart trick over to the opponents, sheepishly acknowledging defeat.

There was good reason for South to feel that he had bitten off more than he could chew, but he nevertheless gave up too easily. There was a possible break of suits which would produce the contract, and so of course South should have played for that break.

The one chance was to find either defender with at least four cards in hearts and in clubs. To that end, South should have cashed the diamond ace and ruffed a diamond; then gone back to the trump jack and ruffed the last diamond. After this, if he simply went over to the club king and cashed dummy's last trump while discarding a heart from the closed hand, West would be squeezed. He would either have to abandon his side's only heart stopper or, by giving up a club, permit declarer to cash all four cards of that suit.

Crusaders Top Powers 10-1; Bark River Next

The Holy Name Crusaders notched their second win over Powers here yesterday, belting the Tigers 10-1, to move over the .500 mark with two wins against one defeat.

Coach Tom St. Germain's charges scored a run in the first inning added another in the second and then pushed over four runs in each of the fifth and sixth frames.

The Crusaders reached two Powers pitchers for only five hits but took advantage of numerous walks and errors. Jim Brown, Holy Name catcher, walked four straight times and stole six bases while scoring two runs.

Poupore Slams Homer

Biggest blow of the game was a long home run sock by Bernard Poupore, starting Powers pitcher. Poupore parked the ball over the right-center field fence for the lone Powers run in the sixth inning.

Don Trotter, in his first starting assignment, mowed down 12 Powers batsmen on strikeouts and allowed only three hits in his six innings on the Crusader mound. He retired after the sixth with a pulled thigh muscle.

Trotter used an overhand fast ball and a three-quarter arm curve to average two strikeouts per inning. Denis McGinn tossed the last inning for Holy Name, coming in from center field to take over the mound chores, and whiffed two while walking one.

At Bark River Friday

Poupore was relieved by Bernard O'Neil, third baseman, after five innings. Poupore fanned 12, walked 12 and hit two batsmen.

Holy Name's next start will be Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Bark River diamond. The Bark River Broncos will be playing their first game of the season.

Junior righthander John Berrigan will open on the hill for the Crusaders.

Red Hot Tigers Seek Fifth Straight Win, First Place In Loop

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers—those springtime dandies—were only a half game out of first place as they prepared to meet the Washington Senators tonight in the first after-dark game of the season in Briggs Stadium.

But first place wasn't the only goal of these April hotshots. The Tigers were seeking their fifth straight victory — which would be their longest winning streak since sometime before the 1952 season.

The record books are misty on such accomplishments, but it's definitely known that the Tigers haven't won more than four in a row in the last four seasons.

House Is Hero

Last year they captured four in a row on one occasion and did it four times in 1953. They put together four straight wins twice during the dismal last-place finish of 1952, when they won only 50 games all year.

The Tigers tied their "modern" streak Wednesday, thumping the Baltimore Orioles, 11-3, for their fourth straight as catcher Frank House provided the big punch with a bases-loaded home run in the third inning.

Now the job of winning No. 5—and possibly first place—is placed in the erratic left hand of Billy Hoeft, who pitched a dazzling three-hitter in his last start.

To Face Stone

Manager Chuck Dressen of the Senators has named Dean Stone, a young tiger killer, to oppose Hoeft. Last season Stone whipped the Tigers four times without losing.

No. 4 came with rather ridiculous ease. House lined his basesloaded home run to cap a six-run outburst in the third inning, and that was that as far as the Orioles were concerned.

Steve Gromek went all the way and gave up nine hits—most of them well-scattered until the ninth—to record his third win against one loss.

Eagles Reach Season Peak In Triangular Track Win

KINGSFORD — Stephenson's deep and powerful track and field squad walked off with first place honors here yesterday afternoon, downing Kingsford and Iron Mountain in a triangular meet.

Coach Francis Cappaert's Eagles scored 66 2/3 points, far ahead of Kingsford with 43.

Turning in their best individual performances of the season, the Eagles won nine firsts and tied for another. Swift Bob Visuri and lanky Dick LeRoy were double winners for Stephenson. Visuri swept the dashes and LeRoy the hurdles.

Tom Kakuk copped the 440 run, Jerry Martin the half mile, Palzewics tied for first in the pole vault and Bob Kuntze won the mile run.

Visuri, recovering from a muscle pull, flew through the 220 yard dash in his fastest time ever, covering the distance in 23.8, only eight-tenths of a second over the U. P. record. His 10.6 century is the fastest run in the Peninsula this season.

LeRoy also turned in his best times of the season in the hurdles, as did Kuntze in the mile and Martin in the half mile. Martin is also flirting with the Upper Peninsula record which is 2:04.7. He ran it in 2:08.6.

Both the relay teams turned in their best performances of the season. Kingsford's Erickson got off a fine broad jump of 20 feet, 4 inches.

Stephenson will travel to Menominee for a dual meet Monday.

Red Buck Archers To Build Outdoor Range

The Escanaba Red Buck Archery Club has announced that construction is under way on an outdoor field archery range at the ski hill area.

Permission to build the field range was granted the Archery Club by the city.

The range will be available to all archers in the Peninsula under the supervision of the Red Buck Club which has grown rapidly into one of the foremost archery groups in the U. P.

The range will be built under Upper Peninsula Archery Association regulations and will be suitable for competitive archery meets. The club hopes to be host to a U. P. field archery tournament this summer.

The new range will consist of 28 targets of different yardage. Officers of the U.P.F.A. Association will be in Escanaba this week to help Red Buck members lay out the range and to check on specifications and regulations. Work on the project is expected to be completed in about two weeks.

Red Buck officials said the range will be open to junior archers as well as senior members of the club here.

All safety factors will be observed in the building of the outdoor range, club officials announced.

Officers of the local club are Harold Winchester, president; Carl Johnson, vice president; John Lueneburg, secretary; Walter Arntzen, publicity chairman, and Francis Lueneburg, range master.

The club has an indoor archery range at Club 314 where meets and shoots are conducted during the winter months in cooperation with the city recreation department.

Golf's Tourney Of Champions Under Way

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Easy swinging Sam Snead and 20 other topflight professional golfers tee off today in the first round of the $37,500 tournament of champions.

The field is limited to winners of at least one major PGA tournament in the past year, and leading the troupe off the first tee is the 1954 Las Vegas winner, Art Wall Jr., and former national open champion Julius Boros.

Snead, the favored but unsuccessful threat in the first two tournaments, once again was a top challenger to win the $10,000 first money.

Cary Middlecoff, the 1955 masters champion, is, of course, a solid favorite. He finished fourth, with 285, last year, and the year before third with 285.

Manistique Cardinals Begin Workouts Sunday

All team positions are open on the Cardinals' roster, Manager Lesica states, and new candidates are invited. Evening practice sessions will begin next week.

The Manistique Baseball Association will be meeting later this week, for organization.

Sports Briefs

(By The Associated Press)

Ralph Kiner, the husky Cleveland outfielder who for nine seasons made life miserable for National League pitchers, is having his troubles in the American League. He's had only eight hits in 45 at bats for a lowly .173 batting average.

Ever hear of a ballplayer not playing and gaining 21 points in his batting average? It happened Wednesday to Rip Repulski when the Cardinals were rained out at Philadelphia. An official scorers' change in the second game of April 17 gave Repulski another hit and upped his percentage from .396 to .417.

The Dodgers top both leagues in double plays with 19. Detroit is next with 18 and Pittsburgh is third with 17.

NCAA Blasts Utah Cage Coach Gardner

KANSAS CITY (AP) —The NCAA verbally blistered Utah basketball coach Jack Gardner Wednesday for obtaining players by methods it termed unsportsmanlike and unethical.

It said Gardner "resorted to deception, himself, and encouraged devious and deceptive behavior by advising student-athletes to collaborate in not revealing" to officials they were planning to shift from one school to another.

The action by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.'s policy-making council was on an incident two years ago that led to the transfer of two Big Seven Conference basketball players to Utah of the Skyline Conference.

Gardner resigned as head coach at Kansas State College in September, 1953, to take the Utah position.

The council said that during the summer of 1953 Gardner "actively but covertly carried beyond reasonable limits his contact with three Kansas State College varsity basketball players in an obvious effort to persuade them to transfer" to Utah.

Gary Bergen, a Kansas State center, transferred to the Salt Lake City school. A University of Colorado player, Art Bunte, also shifted there. Jerry Jung and Roger Craft were the other K-State athletes involved but they remained at the Kansas college.

Bunte and Bergen were instrumental in leading Utah to the Skyline Conference championship last year. It was their first season of play after waiting a year to gain eligibility. The Utes had a 13-1 league record and a 24-4 overall mark.

Esky Baseball Team Shoots For 37th Straight Victory

The Escanaba Eskymos make their second start of the 1955 baseball season at Stephenson this afternoon, seeking to stretch their undefeated string to 37 games.

Coach Jim Rouman's Esky players successfully negotiated the first hurdle of the season Monday afternoon by piling up an easy 16-0 victory over Marquette on Harlan Breitzman's brilliant no-hitter.

Rouman this morning named Breitzman to start against the Eagles. He said his other hurlers had not yet rounded into shape but that any one of four could be called on for relief duties if necessary.

Mid-Season Form

Breitzman seemed in mid-season form as he twirled the opener against Marquette. The slim righthander faced only 22 batsmen, one over the minimum for a perfect game. He walked the 15th batter to face him but retired all the rest in order. Breitzman whiffed 13.

The remainder of the Escanaba lineup will be intact with sophomore Allan Erickson behind the plate and soph Bucky Flath at first, Pat Coyne at second, Jim Beck at shortstop, Hugh Ray at third, Bob Bero in left field, Dave Viau in center field and Norm Seguin in right. A squad of about 15 players will make the trip.

Escanaba collected seven hits off the slants of two Marquette pitchers in the first game of the season. Highlighting the plate attack were home runs by Erickson and Seguin, both of whom collected two hits. Viau, Beck and reserve second baseman Jack Carlson got the other hits.

Strohl Likely Pitcher

All of the Eskymos are veterans with the exception of the sophomores, Erickson and Flath.

Besides Breitzman, members of the Escanaba pitching corps are Ricky Erickson, Bill Ringuette, Elmer Bessonen and Larry Sauve.

Stephenson also has a veteran baseball team this year. Coach Alton "Skip" Cowan will probably use veteran Jim Strohl, a senior righthander, on the hill against the Eskymos.

Stephenson opened the season Monday with a 4-3 victory over the Holy Name Crusaders, coming from behind to wipe out a 3-0 deficit.

Schousen Resigns As Stephenson Cage Coach

STEPHENSON—Walt Schousen, who coached the Stephenson Eagles to their first Class B district championship in the history of the school, has informed the board of education that he will not return as basketball coach next year.

Schousen was basketball coach at Stephenson for the past four years. He also served as assistant track and field coach.

The Eagles copped Class B district honors in the tournament at Holy Name High School this spring, defeating Escanaba in the opener and Menominee in the finals. It was Stephenson's first victory over Menominee after a string of 10 straight basketball losses to that school.

Schousen, a graduate of Miami University in Ohio, indicated he would seek a coaching job in Ohio. The board of education has not obtained a replacement as yet.

Stephenson next season will be a full-fledged member of the Great Lakes Conference in football, basketball and track and will compete in the conference track and field meet at Manistique Saturday, May 7.

Athletics Show More Power In Kansas City But Homers Fail To Improve Standing

The Associated Press

It may be those Kansas City steaks, but the Athletics are sprouting biceps and a home run punch. Trouble is, they were better off as puny singles hitters back in Philadelphia.

The A's have swatted 17 home runs so far, yet have won only 5 of 12 games. A year ago, with a mere four homers, they were 7-5. And in '53, with nine home runs, they also were 7-5.

The A's have a three-game winning streak going now, of course, and may be set to pad it. But the 1954 crew had won three straight after their 12th game too.

Three-Hit Homers

Bill Renna, Gus Zernial and Bill Wilson connected for homers Wednesday as the A's, with a dandy three-hit performance by sore-arm Cloyd Boyer, knocked off the Boston Red Sox 6-2. That left the A's, despite their 5-7 mark, in a tie for sixth place with Washington, just 2½ games behind the White Sox in a surprisingly tight AL race.

Chicago took first by clubbing the New York Yankees 13-4. The Yanks slipped to a second-place tie with Cleveland—only 21 percentage points back—as the Indians beat Washington 6-5 in 17 innings. Detroit replaced Boston in fourth place by beating Baltimore 11-3.

Dodgers Stay Ahead

In the National, Brooklyn beat Cincinnati 7-2 Wednesday night to stay three games up on Milwaukee. The Braves whipped the New York Giants 9-6 in a day game. Pittsburgh slipped out of the cellar as the Redlegs fell in, beating Chicago 4-1.

Boyer, a St. Louis Cardinals castoff and brother of Redbird rookie Ken Boyer, was troubled only by his own wildness and Faye Throneberry's home run as he beat the sagging Red Sox. He walked the bases full in the fifth after Norb Zauchin's leadoff double, and Billy Goodman's sacrifice fly scored the other Boston run.

The White Sox got four-hit relief work from Billy Pierce over 6 2-3 innings after Virgil Trucks' departure. Pierce won it, with Walt Dropo hammering home three runs with fourth and fifth-inning homers. Sherm Lollar homered for two as the Sox routed Whitey Ford with five runs in the first.

Yanks Lose Skowron

The Yanks also lost hard-hitting Bill Skowron for an indefinite time when he pulled a leg muscle running out a triple. The young first baseman leads the AL with a .451 average.

Cleveland didn't shake off Washington until Bobby Avila lifted a sacrifice fly with the bases loaded and one out in the 17th inning. Both clubs used four hurlers. Chuck Stobbs lost it and Art Houtteman won it. Mickey Vernon batted in four of the Nats' runs with a three-run homer off starter Early Wynn in the third and a single that tied it in the seventh.

Detroit had a grand-slam from catcher Frank House, his first in the majors, and three free runs to beat the Orioles. Bill Miller walked five in a row for two Tiger runs in the fifth and Lou Kretlow gave up a single before walking three in a row for another gift in the eighth.

Pitching Was Good

Pitching was the big thing in the National League games. Bob Purkey gave up just four hits as Pittsburgh snapped a three-game Chicago winning streak. Dick Grout helped the sophomore righthander with three hits.

At the Polo Grounds, big Gene Conley held the Giants to two hits for eight innings and had a 9-1 lead that withstood a five-run New York rally in the ninth. Five Milwaukee runs chased starter Ruben Gomez in the second and Hank Aaron, Bobby Thomson and Danny O'Connell followed it up with home runs. Willie Mays homered for New York in the second and Hank Thompson capped the too-late, too-little heroics with a three-run pinch homer.

Billy Loes had the feeble Redlegs hitless for 5 2-3 innings, then Ed Bailey's single followed an error for Cincinnati's second run. The first came when Loes walked three and hit another in the second.

The Dodgers got 13 walks, and three runs in the eighth without a hit, off five pitchers. Roy Campanella batting cleanup for the first time this season, drove in two runs with a bases-loaded single off loser Corky Valentine in the fourth.

Holman Stops Charles With Ninth Round TKO

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—They call the Miami Beach Auditorium "Upset Arena" because so many well-known fighters are beaten there. One of the most popular victims is Ezzard Charles.

Wednesday night, an unrated, 27-year-old Negro from Chicago, John Holman, launched a thunderous surprise attack in the ninth round to stop Charles, a 4-1 favorite, on a technical knockout.

"I've got no excuse," Charles said later. "I really blew that one. He was a hard hitter and he wore me down."

Second For Charles

It was the second bitter upset for Charles in Miami Beach. Two years ago, in the same auditorium, he was outpointed by Nino Valdes, an unknown Cuban underdog who went on from there to become the top contender for Rocky Marciano's heavyweight crown.

"This won't stop me," said Charles, who still has hopes of winning a third shot at Marciano's title. "I'll keep right on fighting."

Holman dropped Charles in the first round with a right behind the left ear but the 33-year-old former champion was up at the count of three and immediately took command of the fight.

Charles hurt Holman with a consistent body attack and was leading on all cards when the fight went into the ninth round. Then a sudden left-right-left barrage by Holman staggered Charles and another left flattened him for a count of nine.

His 16th Knockout

Referee Eddie Coachman stopped the fight at 2:48 of the ninth after Holman had nailed Charles with three straight solid rights to the head and seemed on the verge of putting the ex-champ down for good.

It was the 16th knockout for Holman in 37 fights and his third straight victory this year. The glass-jawed Chicagoan's last loss was to Bob Satterfield, who knocked him out in the first round.

Holman weighed 202¾, Charles 193½.

Referee Eddie Coachman gave Charles a 77-76 lead through the eighth round. Judge Morris Feingold had Charles on top 77-74 and judge Gus Jacobson gave him a 76-75 margin.

Gomez Draws Durocher Ire

NEW YORK (AP) —Leo Durocher is fed up with what he terms constant complaining by Ruben Gomez the unpredictable righthander of the New York Giants.

"He's always moaning," the Giants' manager growled disgustedly in the clubhouse after their 9-6 defeat by Milwaukee Wednesday in which Gomez failed to last two innings. "The weather was too cold for him. He couldn't grip the ball.

"It was just as cold for the other guy. He's the only one who complains.

"To me, this cold weather bunk is nothing but a poor excuse. He was just plain lousy. He'd better show something soon."

Did Leo intend to skip Gomez the next time he was due to pitch, presumably Sunday against Cincinnati?

"I might," Durocher answered slowly. Then, after a pause, "I probably will."

The Puerto Rican righthander was given a hot reception Wednesday by the Braves in the 48-degree weather. The Braves sent him to an early shower — a warm one, no doubt — in the second inning with a five-run explosion that included four hits and three bases on balls.

Gomez was dressed and gone by the time the other Giants tramped into the clubhouse.

How Old Is Old Among Golfers?

NEW YORK (AP) — How old is "old" in competitive golf?

Fred Corcoran, nimble-witted tournament adviser of the Professional Golfers Assn., proposed a star-studded head-to-head team match today to find the concrete answer.

"Let's have a team match pitting the 10 top players 40 years old and over against this new brigade under that age. Let's see who would win. I'd have to go along with the older guys."

The lineups probably would go something like this:

Forty and over: Ben Hogan, Sam Snead, Lloyd Mangrum, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Byron Nelson, Chick Harbert, Jimmy Demaret, Claude Harmon, Gene Sarazen, Horton Smith and Johnny Revolta.

Under 40: Carey Middlecoff, Bob Toski, Gene Littler, Ed Furgol, Jackie Burke, Mike Souchak, Tommy Bolt, Billy Maxwell, Julius Boros, Shelley Mayfield, Jay Hebert and Bob Rosburg.

Corcoran said he would promote the project if all hands were agreeable.

CHICAGO (AP) —Manager Birdie Tebbetts of Cincinnati has introduced a new bunting defense... on most sacrifice bunts, the Redleg second sacker — not the first baseman — charges all the way in for the ball ... Conley Hurls Braves To Win Over Giants; Thomson Slams Homer

NEW YORK (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves won their eighth victory in 12 starts by defeating the New York Giants 9-6 Wednesday.

Bobby Thomson spearheaded Milwaukee's 12-hit attack against his former teammates with a home run and two singles.

Gene Conley went all the way for the Braves despite a rocky ninth inning when the Giants put together five of their seven hits for five runs. Hank Thompson's pinch hit home run accounted for the last three tallies.

Thomson, on the sidelines most of last year with a fractured ankle following his trade to Milwaukee for southpaws Johnny Antonelli and Don Liddle, batted in three runs to increase his league-leading total to 20 in 12 games.

It was Thomson's two-run single that climaxed a five-run second inning for the Braves and sent starter Ruben Gomez to the showers. The slugging left fielder, continuing to give proof that the ankle is fully healed, singled again in the third and hammered his third homer of the season, off Al Corwin, in the sixth.

Score by innings:

Milwaukee	050 021 010—9	12	0
New York	010 000 005—6	7	1

Conley and Crandall; Gomez, Corwin (2), Wilhelm (7) McCall (9) and Katt, Hofman (6). L—Gomez.

Home Runs—Milwaukee, O'Connell, Thomson, Aaron. New York, Mays, Thompson.

Yanks Lose Skowron With Pulled Muscle

CHICAGO (AP) —The New York Yankees, knocked out of first place in the American League by the White Sox, Wednesday, also suffered the loss of first baseman Bill Skowron.

Skowron, the American League's leading hitter at .451 and tops in RBI's with 18, pulled a muscle while running out a triple in the third inning.

The former Purdue football player said something popped in his right leg after he rounded second. He didn't say anything about it until the fifth inning when he was taken out of the game. Later he was barely able to hobble about the hotel.

The full extent of the injury was not known immediately.

Expect Good Trout Opener

LANSING (AP) — Some 150,000 Michigan anglers are gambling on a good start to the trout season Saturday, but old man weather is holding his usual fistful of trumps.

Early indications are that Saturday's opener will be a better-than-usual one in most parts of the state, barring heavy rains.

Reports are that streams are generally below their normal level for this time of the year, with water temperatures lower than usual also.

The State Conservation Department said today fishermen should find most trout streams accessible. Back roads were reported passable in most parts of the states.

Although the early rainbow season was disappointing, department wildlife men say the fish are there—in plentiful supply.

When the lid goes off the season at midnight Friday, the department says, some 250,000 legal-sized trout will have been planted in Michigan waters.

The Saturday opening will attract not only trout fishermen, but muskie, walleye and northern pike anglers as well.

Reports from various parts of the state agree on this: Spring is considerably ahead of schedule this year, which should give fishermen a break on water conditions and in the scenery that surrounds them.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Kalamazoo pushed across 10 runs in the first two innings to whip Calvin 12-4 in baseball Wednesday.

Power Co. Asks $150,000 Rate Relief By City

The city of Escanaba today was notified that the Upper Michigan Power & Light Company is asking the Michigan Public Service Commission for an immediate increase in electric rates paid by the city, to enable the Power Company to earn not less than $150,000 more each year.

It is the latest development in a petition by the Power and Light Company to obtain an increase in electric rates paid by the city under a wholesale power contract which the Power Company claims to be illegal.

The Power Company has submitted proofs in its case to the Public Service Commission. The city has not yet presented its case. The city has, however, challenged the jurisdiction of the PSC and holds that the rate contract is valid.

Meeting today noon in special session, the City Council received copies of the Power Company's latest petition, which asks the PSC to:

"Make a finding and enter an order granting as partial and immediate relief an increase in petitioner's electric rates to the City of Escanaba sufficient to enable the petitioner to earn an additional sum of not less than $150,000 per year," and such "further relief as may be in accordance with the law and the facts."

The petition was filed with the PSC by J. Joseph Herbert of Manistique, attorney and agent for the Upper Michigan Power & Light Company.

The City Council discussed the petition in particular and the electric power shortage situation in general, and agreed that in the interest of an early solution to the power problem, it will ask the Upper Michigan Power & Light Company for the services of its electrical engineers, as consultants.

Mayor Harland Yelland noted that the Council is earnestly continuing its efforts to find a solution to the power problem which will be fair not only to the people of Escanaba, but to the Mead Corporation and its subsidiaries. The Mead Corporation has announced plans for expansion of its paper manufacturing here when it is relieved of the Escanaba electric load.

The Council has held many special meetings and has sought the services of citizens of the community and electrical engineers in efforts to find an early and equitable answer to the power problem, the mayor said.

Bombing At Home Of Detroit Judge Traced To Boy, 15

DETROIT (AP)—The mystery of the homemade bomb set off near the home of Recorder's Judge W. McKay Skillman Tuesday night has been solved, police said today.

Detectives quoted a 15-year-old boy who lives in the judge's neighborhood as saying he did it "just for the fun of it."

The boy told police he made the bomb from a six-inch lead pipe stuffed with chemicals taken from a high school laboratory. It did no serious damage. He was ordered to report with his parents to the youth bureau.

Big Bubble Gum Mystery Solved

CHICAGO (AP) — Gumshoes from the Maxwell Street police district have solved the big bubble gum mystery. They rounded up nine lads, aged 7 to 13, gave them a good talking to and freed them Wednesday.

The Topps Gum Co. of Brooklyn had advertised it would give prizes for coupons packed with the company's bubble gum. For 1,750 coupons a child could get a bike, for 125 a knife.

A few days ago stacks of coupons began flowing into the company—all from one neighborhood in Chicago. The company became suspicious and notified police.

Prospective prize winners were rounded up and related one of the group a year ago had broken into a Chicago paper company that had printed the coupons.

Cigarette Fire Causes Damage In Schoolcraft Jail

MANISTIQUE—Minor damage resulted Wednesday evening from a fire started in the Schoolcraft County jail by a prisoner's cigarette.

The fire began in a cell block about 11 p. m., while the night deputy, James Dubois, was attending the fire at the court house. The cell block was occupied by George E. Earle, 34, of Blaney Park, who had been arrested at 10:30 p. m., the same evening by city police.

Police reported that Earle broke a window in a hardware store in the 200 block of S. Cedar St., and he was arrested for drunk and disorderly conduct.

While the night deputy poured water to extinguish the fire, he was struck by Earle. Earle also reportedly hit another Manistique resident, who saw him break a window.

Earle was released from jail this morning on his own recognizance for appearance in Justice Court at 10 a. m., Friday. Justice E. J. Doyle is out of the city today.

Mead Prospects In 1955 Bright

Mead Corporation sales in the first quarter of 1955 established a new record and prospects are bright for the second quarter, Sydney Ferguson, chairman of the board, told shareholders of the company in the annual meeting Tuesday at Dayton, Ohio.

"There are indications that the whole of 1955 may be one of good volume but it is quite possible we may have some temporary setback," Ferguson said. "I feel, therefore, that our enthusiasm must be tempered with a degree of caution. The last half of the year will undoubtedly bring higher costs for us to meet.

Ferguson reported that the company anticipates capital expenditures in 1955 somewhat in excess of the $7,000,000 spent last year. A part will be used for special facilities for the manufacture of the new NCR—no carbon required —paper. Other expenditures will be largely for the speeding up of several paper machines and the expansion of warehouse facilities.

George H. Mead, S. C. Allyn, Water H. J. Behm, Charles S. Cheston, Charles W. Deeds, Sydney Ferguson, Clarence Francis, E. T. Gardner, Alfred W. Jones, C. F. Kettering, Robert H. Lee, Al H. Mahrt, H. T. Mead, D. F. Morris, Murray Smith, F. M. Thayer, C R. Van de Carr Jr., and H. E. Whitaker were elected directors. Walker Lewis Jr., secretary; Paul B. Purpus, comptroller; Murray Smith, general counsel.

The directors declared a quarterly dividend of 50 cents on the common shares, the quarterly dividend of $1.06 1/4 per share on the 4 1/4 per cent cumulative preferred shares and the quarterly dividend of 53 3/4 cents per share on the 4.30 per cent series cumulative second preferred shares. DeBacker Jury Fails To Agree

Hopelessly deadlocked in their efforts to come to a decision, jurors in the case of Jerome DeBacker vs Emil DeBacker were dismissed by Judge Glenn H. Jackson at 5:30 yesterday afternoon. The case had gone to the jury about 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Jerome DeBacker had brought suit against his father, Emil DeBacker, to determine to what extent he was entitled to damages for injuries sustained in an accident while he was riding in his father's truck a year ago. The plaintiff had been in the employ of his father at the time the accident occured. Damages in the amount of $20,000 were asked by the plaintiff's attorneys when the case was presented Monday.

Just before noon today the case of Stacey vs Taylor went to the jury after having been tried since shortly before yesterday noon. Jesse M. Stacey, a painter and decorator, had brought suit against Walter J. and Inez Taylor for compensation for work and material employed in decorating the Taylor home at 420 Second Ave. S. Stacey claimed that a sum of $954 in excess of estimated costs agreed upon because of alleged extra work and material required of him, was due. The defendants denied that he was entitled to these extras and entered counter claims for what they claimed was inferior work and had to be done over.

One more jury case is yet to be heard—Edward G. Miller and Louise Miller vs. Hiawatha Plywood Co. et al. It was not announced at this time when it will be up for trial other than that it will be tried by jury at this term.

Arraigned before Judge Jackson this morning on a charge of breaking and entering, John Summers entered a plea of guilty. Summers was charged with breaking into the warehouse of the Tirschell Distributing Company in the night time, about a month ago. A number of other defendants were involved in the case and had all entered guilty pleas. They will appear before Judge Jackson for sentence next Monday.

Roofing Company Observing 25th Anniversary Here

The Independent Roofing and Siding Company is observing its 25th anniversary in Escanaba in connection with the JC Home Show, opening here tomorrow night.

The company started operating in Milwaukee and Menominee before opening in Escanaba March 1930. Five brothers have been affiliated with the business. The oldest, Joseph F. Neumeier founded the business in Milwaukee 35 years ago. Offices are still maintained in Milwaukee and Menominee as well as in Escanada.

Edward Neumeier operates the Milwaukee business, Joseph and John in Menominee and Charles and Frank in Escanaba.

The Neumeier brothers grinningly recall that in their first year of business in Escanaba they installed a new roof on a wrong house. At present they are re-roofing the homes of some of their first customers in this area.

Schools To Try Out Gray Glass

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A special gray window glass for use in school classrooms has been described by one of the nation's top school planners.

Charles D. Gibson, head of the California department of school planning at Los Angeles, told lighting engineers and health authorities at the University of Michigan that this glass drastically reduces glare from daylight.

He is a recognized authority on school lighting, a member of the Joint Committee on Daylighting of the American Institute of Architects, and Illuminating Engineering Society and the National council on School House Construction.

"The goal we have long been striving for," Gibson said, "is a high level of well distributed illumination without glare in a complete 360-degree visual field."

SEALERS FOR FLOORS

CHICAGO (AP)—Hardwood floors can be finished with a penetrating sealer which sinks into the pores of the wood, leaving no surface film to be scratched or marred, says the Maple Flooring Manufactures Assn.

PAINT GARBAGE CANS

If you must put up with garbage cans in your yard, why not dress them up with some bright paint?

Low Roof 'Hugs' Ground

This three-bedroom ranch home has ceilings that follow the slope of the roof to give the illusion of greater size. Labeled "midwest contemporary" in architectural style, the house is Plan No. AB198, American Builder magazine, 79 W. Monroe, Chicago.

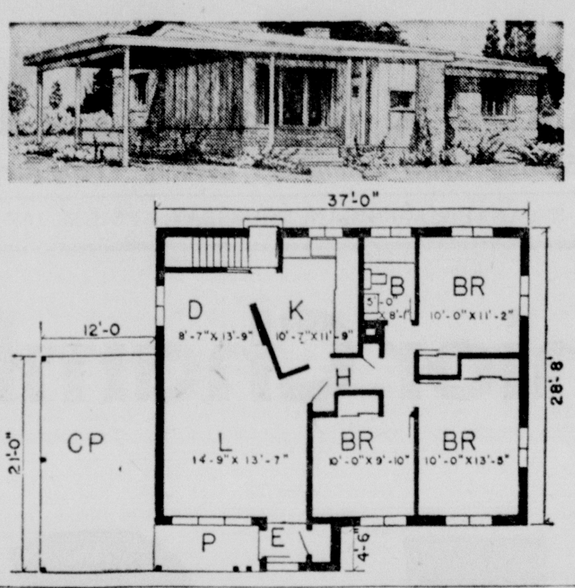
Door-high walls separate the kitchen from the dining-living area, furthering the sense of increased size. Bedroom and hall closets are placed at the center of the high point of the ceiling, thus providing additional storage space.

Vertical boards and face brick are used effectively on the exterior. Low roof lines make the house "hug" the ground. A newly developed application method makes it possible to cover low-slope roofs like this with asphalt shingles, giving the home-owner a wide choice of attractive colors. The amount of window area is extensive, in line with modern housing trends.

The modern appearance of the interior is heightened both by the unusual diagonal layout of the wall between kitchen and dining area, and by the open floor plan, which allows flexible arrangement of furniture.

The house plan calls for a full basement half of which is devoted to heating and laundry equipment, the other half to free space which may be finished later on as a recreation room. There is also room for a fruit storage bin under the entrance vestibule.

(Detailed building plans are available from American Builder, 79 West Monroe St., Chicago 3. Refer to Plan No. AB198.)



Scour Off Paint From Concrete In Laying Flooring

When painted concrete is in direct contact with the ground, the paint should be removed before installing resilient tile flooring over the concrete, advise flooring engineers.

Best method is to scour off the paint with a floor sanding machine, which many hardware stores have for rent, using No. 4 or No. 5 sandpaper.

Chemical types of paint remover should never be used because they soak into the porous concrete and their turpentine or benzine bases may eventually damage the resilient tile flooring. Acids likewise should be avoided.

COLOR PLAYS TRICKS

When choosing paint for the walls of a room, remember that your sample should be quite a bit lighter than the finished effect you wish to achieve. The same color on a larger area looks darker than it does on a small surface. And four walls of the same color reflect each other and deepen the color effect.

The coffee can on the range is a familiar grease caddy in many homes. It can be disguised with a pottery cover that has handles and a lid. Chunk the can out or sell it or make soap, but the cover will hold the next one while you're at it.

Builders Concentrate On Modern Kitchens

Kitchens are big news tsis year. In their efforts to put more value into today's homes, builders throughout the nation are concentrating on that most important of all spaces to the homemaker—the kitchen. Here are some of the outstanding features the home-buying family will find in the kitchens on display this week:

More counter space. Skimpy counters are the bone of homemakers living in older homes. Todays' builders are solving the problem by putting a counter at each of the three important work centers—range, refrigerator and sink.

Ease of maintenance. Such materials as clay tile, which can be cleaned with a damp cloth and is unaffected by grease and water, are being used increasingly for counter tops and splashbacks.

Drawers in base cabinets. Pull-out drawers are much handier for base cabinet storage than the old shelf arrangement. Ventilated bins keep such supplies as potatoes and onions in best condition.

Better wiring. This is a hidden asset, but it's a necessity for today's homemakers, accustomed to using a wide variety of electrical equipment.

Better-planned corner cabinets. The installation of lazy-susan or merry-go-round shelves in corner cabinets is becoming standard practice. These shelves put hither-to-wasted space to good use.

Improved ventilation. Once an extra, a ventilating fan over the range is being made standard equipment in many new builder homes.

There Are Right And Wrong Places For Trees

Choosing the right location for a tree can be as important as selecting the right tree.

A tree that sheds its leaves for winter can be used in places where summer shade is wanted without sacrificing winter warmth—around the south and west sides of house. Evergreens, on the other hand, can be used for dense windbreaks or screens for privacy.

The litter created by some trees should be considered. Acorns, catalpa pods, useless fruit trees, are problems when lawn care is involved.

Summer Home Should Be Easy To Keep Clean

Drab walls; unattractive, splintered floors; cluttered rooms and too few conveniences are faults common to many summer cottages. But actually the summer home should be on a par with the year-around dwelling, for comfort and a change from the labor of household chores are the principal reasons for maintaining a summer home, it is pointed out by the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information.

A good place to start summer home improvements during the spring weekends before occupying the cottage is to clean the exterior paint; or to repaint the exterior if the old coat of paint is deteriorating.

A coat of paint inside and out will give the cottage a lift; and paint will protect surfaces from damage by the elements.

Next point of attack can be the floors, since they can be expected to receive a great deal of wear and tear all summer long. Unless floors are carefully chosen as to material, they can soon become shabby and will require an unusual amount of care. Unsightliness can be eliminated once and for all, and cleaning tasks considerably lightened by installing tile flooring right over the old floor.

This is a simple job which the home handyman can do himself with considerable savings. The old floor should be made tight, sound, level and smooth, with holes and cracks filled in and sanded, before applying the tiles.

Little Care Required

The cost is low and the smart colors brighten up the whole interior. Colors go clear through each tile and cannot wear off. Wiping with a damp cloth, and an occasional washing with neutral soap suds and a clear water rinse, is about all the care required for summer - long spic-and-span appearance.

Double-deck bunks save space and provide accommodations for guests. With the added sleeping facilities, more storage space should be provided — inexpensive cabinets or chests of drawers. Often a space can be found for these where an offset is formed by a chimney, jog or other structural irregularity without sacrificing floor space. Storage can be added even in a small bathroom by building enclosed shelves beneath the wash basin.

Venetian blinds keep a room cooler in summer than ordinary window shades and clean easily.

To be on the safe side, adequate fire extinguishers should not be overlooked as equipment for every summer cottage.

SQUEAKING FLOORS

You can quiet an annoying, creaking floor by working a little moist soap into the cracks between the boards.

Painted Surfaces Ease Housework, Speed Up Chores

The hands of the clock may still turn at the same rate of speed they did when the world's affairs moved at a more leisurely pace. Nevertheless, everything seems to go faster.

We all feel that we have less and less time—even though we accumulate more and more time-saving devices.

To keep up the pace and to keep our daily affairs in good order, we need to simplify housekeeping chores to the nth degree. In such a program, smooth, easily-washed, painted and varnished surfaces can aid tremendously—whether they are large as a wall or small as a shelf.

Glossy Coating

Unless you have tried it, you may have no idea how much difference it will make with the interiors of drawers in your kitchen if they have a glossy coating. Sticky spots or spilled grease may be readily removed with a damp cloth before they become absorbed by the wood. The same rule applies to kitchen shelves, as well.

Bureau drawers, too, will benefit from such a treatment, besides, the interior surfaces look twice as spic and span, if coated with enamel. While you're about it, smooth top edges of the drawers with fine sandpaper and apply furniture wax. This will prevent any roughness if the wood from snagging hosiery or delicate fabrics.

Even the top of a door — and the top of the trim above it—are improved by a coating of paint that will make them easier to dust.

For Kitchen Floors

If your kitchen linoleum is badly worn in spots, it follows that it is harder to keep clean. Linoleum and linoleum rugs quite often become torn or broken at the edges. Such breaks are not only dangerous heel-catchers, but will soon become scuffed unless cracks are sealed.

Furthermore, any water that may find its way into such crevices will rot the under surface of the linoleum. A satisfactory method of repair is to melt some sealing wax of a color to match the linoleum. Run this carefully into the break and smooth it flat before it cools.

Home Show Probably Will Be Annual Event

The Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce has been planning the home and auto show for several months. Tremendous enthusiasm has been generated over this project, both from within the club and from Escanaba merchants, contractors and other local businessmen.

As an added attraction to the home show, new car dealers of the commuinty are including an automobile show within the fairgrounds exhibition building. The latest in new car developments will be shown and explained at the show.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce expects to make this an annual event. Admission to the show will be free to everyone but to avoid confusion and to maintain proper order, children who attend the home show must be accompanied by parents.

Free prizes will be given away each night of the three-night show, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 29 and 30 and May 1. In all, a total of $1,000 in prizes will be distributed.

The entire main floor of the exhibition building at the U. P. State Fairgrounds will be utilized for the display of home furnishings, do-it-yourself booths, home appliances, lumber, siding, paints, awnings, etc.

Free coffee will be served at the home show, a contribution of local food stores and distributors.

Registration blanks will be available at the exhibition building during the show and persons attending the show may register as often as they please.

"We have planned this show for the benefit of everyone interested in home improvement," Al Lord and Harold Cloutier, co-chairman of the project, said in a joint statement. "The cooperation of everyone who has assisted us is appreciated."

Thousands of patrons are expected each night of the show.

FLOOR VARNISH

A good floor varnish of the sealer type has penetrating qualities that become an integral part of the wood, so that after application, it will only wear away as the wood itself wears away.

HARD WEARING FINISH

A good floor finish is one of the sealer types that penetrate and become part of the wood, so that it will only wear away as the wood itself wears.

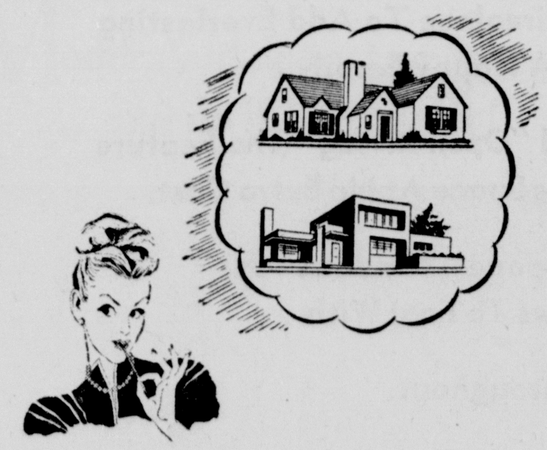
Here's How To Make Your Own Dustcloth

LINCOLN, Neb. — Housewives can fashion their own oil-dampened dust cloths in a jiffy and at little expense, says Mrs. Clara N. Leopold, home management specialist at the University of Nebraska.

Simply pour two tablespoons of lemon oil furniture polish into a jar. Swash it around until the entire inside of the jar is coated. Pour out the excess liquid. Then thoroughly wipe the inside of the jar with a sheer, soft cotton cloth, and leave the cloth in the jar for a day.

The cloth will soak up the polish evenly.

Be sure to wash out the cloth in thick suds when its gets soiled.



WILL YOUR DREAM HOUSE BE TRADITIONAL OR MODERN?

Ellis Lists Types Of Equipment For Air Conditioning Of Homes

Want to know how to be comfortable at home for a resonable price and protect your investment in the house at the same time? Air conditioning experts say that equipment developed during the past few years has made it possible for millions of people to have the homes they're living in completely conditioned, summer and winter at a modest cost.

They'll also tell you that the cost and the kind of equipment to use depends pretty much on the type of house and the existing heating plant. They'll point out further that with the current boom in home air conditioning, houses without this feature will become obsolete and drop in value, while air conditioned dwellings will maintain high resale appeal.

Here's a quick rundown on the types of equipment now available to air condition various types of houses, reported by air conditioning specialist George Ellis, president of the George Ellis Company in New Haven:

1. NEW HOME — The best and least expensive answer is a year-round unit supplying cooling and dehumidifying in summer, heating in winter, and filter-cleaned circulation of air throughout all 12 months of the year. They are now produced in compact, low cost models with both cooling and heating controlled from the same thermostat. The price of the equipment completely installed ranges from $500 to $1,000 more than for a good forced warm air heating system. It can be included in the long-term mortgage.

In addition, a substantial part of it can be absorbed by construction savings through designing the home around air conditioning. Such savings include using solid walls for east or west exposures or along property lines, including a higher proportion of fixed window sash, eliminating screens over fixed windows, employing a simple rectangular floor plan, since cross ventilation is unnecessary, and doing away with attic fans, ventilating louvers and other halfway devices for relief from summer heat.

2. HOMES WITH FORCED WARM AIR—If you're one of the six and a half million people with forced warm air heat and your furnace is in good shape, you'll be interested in a completely new unit introduced by Carrier Corporation this year. It's called a Conversion Weathermaker and it's designed to condition the entire home using the existing duct system and furnace blower. In many cases it will cost only a little more than installing two room air conditioners such as would be used in the living room and the master bedroom.

The price ranges upward from $900 for the average three-bedroom home, and it can be financed on standard, three-year home improvement loans or sometimes added to the long-term mortgage. It consists of a coil package which goes on top of the furnace, into the duct system, or underneath a counterflow furnace, and which is connected to a weatherproof refrigeration unit installed in the yard, a garage or breezeway. It even solves water consumption problems since the refrigeration is provided with air-cooled condensing, eliminating water use.

3. GRAVITY HEAT—The simplest and most economical solution in the long run will be to replace the furnace with a year-round unit. The same duct system can be used with some modification of the basement pipes and of the outlets. With additional wiring and plumbing the cost is likely to run about $700 to $1,000 more than for a new forced warm air heating replacement. Like all central systems it can be financed by home improvement loans or on long-term mortgages. In some cases, if the gravity furnace is in excellent condition, it may be possible to add a packaged summer air conditioning unit tide into the same ductwork.

4. WET HEAT—This term includes hot water or steam heating systems. There are three possible answers in this case; a packaged summer air conditioning unit installed with its own duct system, heating and cooling convectors in each room connected to a central source of warm and chilled water, or room air conditioners. If the house permits simple, cheap installation of ductwork, you could put in a packaged unit such as Carrier's Summer Weathermaker for somewhere in the neighborhood of $1,350 to $1,750 in the average house. If economical ductwork is not possible, heating and cooling convectors can be substituted for the present radiators. These can usually be connected to the existing hot water boiler and to a water-chilling refrigeration plant by the piping already in place. The total cost will range upwards from $2,000.

An alternative is room air conditioners which range in price from $240 to $460 depending on size and quantity. In addition $25 to $45 should be added per unit for normal installation. To handle the average home with room air conditioners throughout might range in the neighborhood of $1,500 to $2,000. Unlike central systems, these are subject to appliance financing which usually runs up only to 24 months in contrast to longer term home-purchase or home - improvement mortgages. However units can be added one at a time.

In many cases, such as in large number of apartments, room units may be the only air conditioning solution currently available. Many units today are being designed specifically for residential use and provide handsome appearance along with automatic, quiet, high performance operation.

5. NO CENTRAL HEAT—The solution in these is either a packaged air conditioner with its own duct system or room air conditioners.

All this equipment and supporting literature will be on display at the Better Home Show at the Arent this week

Good Colors Alter Home At Low Cost

Remodel your home with color —it's the most economical of all the designer's tools. Good color costs no more than bad.

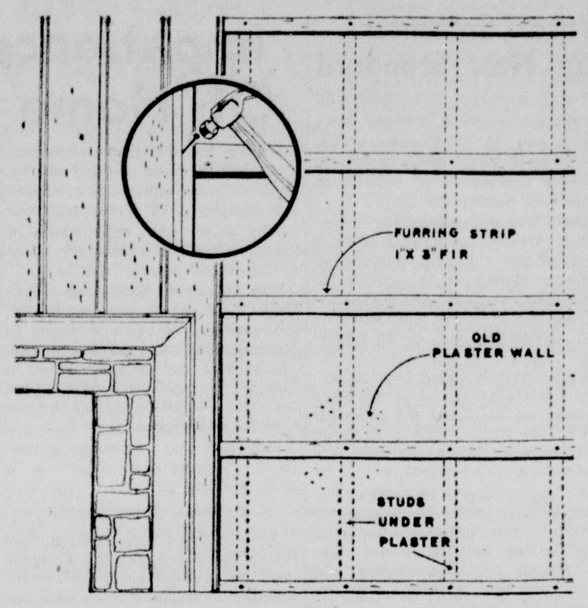
This is the advice of Home Maintenance and Improvement magazine, which stresses the advantage of selecting colors carefully for both exterior and interior remodeling.

"Paint," the magazine says, "costs about the same regardless of the color selected. The price of asphalt shingles for the roof is about the same no matter which of the many solid and blended colors you choose. If you want yellow terrace furniture, it won't cost a bit more than if you pick green."

Since any difference in cost is insignificant, the home-owner can choose his remodeling colors strictly according to decorative principles. This is considered especially important for the owner of a small home, who can use color to create "desirable illusions" that will make his house look appreciably larger and more impressive than it really is.

As an example, the magazine observes that a low one-story house will look taller if it is given a roof of pastel asphalt shingles.

Darker, neutral-colored shingles have the opposite effect; they will make a tall boxy house look lower and less awkwardly proportioned.



FACE LIFTING OLD WALL — Tired of the same old papered or plastered walls? It is easy to have lovely grained paneled walls of west coast hemlock or even Douglas fir. Take narrow strips of fir lumber, 1x2, 1x3 or 1x4 inches, called furring strips. To give even backing for your wall panel boards and also nailing surface, place the furring strips over the old wall parallel to the floor at about two foot intervals. Top and bottom strips should be along floor and ceiling line. Try to nail furring strips to studs. You can tap around with your hammer until you find location of each stud line. Now you have good even surface for nailing paneling boards.

Finished Basement Makes Extra Room

Converting the basement into playroom, teen-age gather place or other specialized room is the easiest, most economical way to increase the value and livability of any home, according to the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information.

It can add about one-tenth more living space to the average house. With a little imagination, the room can have all the comfort and style of an upstairs room.

In calculating how much wallpaper you need for a room, figure 30 square feet of coverage per single roll and buy an extra roll to provide for waste.

Three Factors In Choice Of Roofs

The best type of roofing for your house depends on three major factors: (1) location of your house, (2) the style of your roof, and (3) your preferences for color and appearance.

Location figures in because of economy. If you live in a lumbering region, you may find wood shingles more economical than other roofing materials. And in some places slate and tile can still be afforded. But in most parts of the country, asphalt shingles prove to be the most expedient—so much so that in recent years they have monopolized more than 80 per cent of the market.

The style of a roof is a factor insofar as pitch or slope is concerned. A flat roof calls for built up roofing—something that water will not back up under and which the wind will not be likely to rip off. Also, the steeper the pitch of a roof, the bigger the roof area and the more roofing material is required. This lends further importance to economy.

The Main Styles

Most homes and farm structures today have roofs of one of five styles — gable, hip, shed, gothic, or gambrel. The gable roof, with two sloping sides that meet at the top to form a ridge, is the kind used most frequently It originated in northern climates to provide for shedding heavy loads of snow It was kept in milder climates because of its ease of construction and maintenance. It provides generous attic space. If this space is used for rooms, dormer windows can be cut into the roof surface.

The hip roof also is popular on houses, primarily for appearance. It tends to give a house a lower look and so it is often used for modern architectural designs. However, it is more difficult to ventilate than a gable roof, providing no places for conventional louvers, such as those used in gable ends. Some hip roofs have been equipped with ventilating cupolas, others with ventilating slits that are no more conspicuous than a raised shingle, here and there. Hip roofs, however, can sometimes present problems for the use of attic fans.

Builders Groups Promote Safety

Most building codes need greater provision for home safety.

A leading group of eastern builders recently proposed that there be a concerted national campaign to build more accident-prevention and fire protection into new dwellings. Here are their recommendations.

One—Bathrooms equipped with grab bars installed directly into the wall or wainscot around the tub, and anti-slip bathtub bottoms.

Two—Elimination of stairs by placing all rooms on one level, such as in the ranch style house. Where stairs are used, the committee recommended short, straight flights, as in the split-level design. Winding stairs should be avoided and all staircases, if they are used, should have firm handrails and nonskid treads.

Three—Kitchens should be finished in fireproof material like clay tile, especially in the dangerous area behind the range where so many flash blazes occur during cooking.

Four—Room layout should be planned with sufficient wall space so that furniture may be grouped without obstructing traffic.

Five—Halls should be short and straight, well lighted, and without projections like shelves and fixtures.

Six—Doors should open inward and against the wall. Sliding doors for closets are excellent.

Seven—Plenty of storage should be provided so that fire-breeding clutter is avoided. It is wise to keep such places well ventilated.

Eight—It should be possible to open at least 50 per cent of the window area for ventilation. Upper floor window sills should not be less than 30 inches above the floor.

Modern Bath Is Large, Comfortable

New homes being shown in connection with National Home Week all bear this out. No longer a cramped utility closet for pipes and persons, the modern bathroom is one of the more notable examples of excellence in current building. As a matter of fact, the trend if for the average size house to have one-and-a-half to two bathrooms.

The modern bath is in line with the present quality market in housing. Builders are supplying these designed-for-living features in the bathroom.

Space. The modern bathroom has almost twice as much floor space, more roomy medicine and storage cabinets, and large size countertops.

Beauty. Colorful clay wall tile is now being extended right up to the ceiling and countertops are being surfaced with it in shades subtly blending with the room's color scheme.

Convenience. Popular today is the partitioning off of different sections. This saves the bath, second-busiest room in the house, from early morning traffic jams.

Comfort. A good example here is the book shelf recessed in the clay tile wall near the tub—an invitation for a leisurely "soaking." A large bath has room for a chaise-lounge, too.

If you want to wallpaper a painted or varnished wall, wash it with soda (a pound of it to a pail of warm water), then wash with clear warm water with a little vinegar in it.

Compact and Efficient, It's . . .

An Invitation to Cooking

Beauty teams with convenience and functional efficiency in this compact steel kitchen, one of the newest creations for modern homes. Along one wall area are space-saving, built-in appliances and beautiful steel cabinets, all in a turquoise green hue that blends smartly with patterned wallpaper and white brick housing the wall oven. Easy-to-clean, durable steel cabinets provide abundant storage space besides holding surface cooking units, dishwasher, stainless steel sink, and over-range exhaust fan with ventilating hood. Despite its compactness, this colorful, wife-saving steel kitchen boasts adequate counter space for food preparation, too.

Polka dots on marquisette used to be pasted on and came a cropper in the laundry. Now they're woven in to make this fabric practical as well as pretty for curtains.

Quilt outsides get dowdy before the insides even think of giving up. There are now gaily printed percale quilt covers that zip on in a jiffy. They're color-fast and will wash as often as you wish.

Water Softeners Are Now Standard

Water softeners are becoming standard equipment in many modern homes. In hard water areas, these units have been found to pay for themselves in savings in soap and detergents.

The Water Conditioning Foundation reports that in a typical area where water is moderately hard, as much as 1½ pounds of soap may be destroyed for every 100 gallons of water used in bathing, laundering and house cleaning.

When soap is added to hard water, a certain amount of the soap is used up in taking the hardness out of the water. This is so much lost soap as far as washing effectiveness is concerned.

An objectionable by-product of soap in hard water is the familiar soap scum which shows up as a ring in the bathtub, a dull film on freshly washed silver and glassware and a gray cast on laundered linen.

In many communities water softeners are rented by the month from established service organizations.

Impatience Big Enemy Of 'Home' Handyman

What's the difference between a finished product turned out by a home handyman and a similar job completed by a professional?

Why does one often have a "home-made" look and the other a "finished" look?

The answer to both those questions is, of course, experience. On the surface, that would seem to indicate that the amateur do-it-yourselfer can never hope to achieve the perfection of the professional until he acquires the necessary experience.

But, like that much-sung tune from "Porgy and Bess" — it ain't necessarily so.

Care and Time Needed

Modern tools and modern materials have brought the amateur and the professional much closer together in working skills than before manufacturers began catering to the fix it-make it trade. The chief reason why the home workman doesn't always get first-class results is that he refuses to take his time. Once he starts a project, he wants to see it finished.

The professional, with that all-important experience as his guide, moves along smoothly and easily from step to step. The amateur does not have that experience — but can effectively balance it merely by taking more time to do the job. Fundamental as that seems, it is a fact that the tyro usually takes less time to do something rather than more time.

This great enemy of the home handyman — impatience — shows itself in many ways.

It's there when he omits putting on a coat of sealer even though he has been instructed to do so.

It's there when he neglects the sanding operation between the coats of glossy finishing materials.

It's there when he doesn't bother to drill pilot holes for screws.

It's there when he makes a wood joint which isn't "just right" and decides that it will do, even though an extra few minutes would enable him to make it perfect.

It's there when he doesn't give contact cement sufficient time to dry before bonding plastic laminate to wood.

And on and on . . . and on.

Power Tools Misused

The peculiar angle to this "hurry, hurry" complex is that the unskilled worker of today is able —even when he takes his time— to complete a job much faster than the professional of yesterday. With power tools, he can saw wood, make joints, drill holes, sand and do everything else in far less time than when all such operations had to be done by hand. Better yet, he can attain a degree of accuracy never before possible except by the most expert craftsmen. This accuracy is achieved, however, only when the do-it-yourselfer is willing to take the little extra time necessary to make the proper adjustments some of which consist merely of turning knobs or moving levers.

Like the golf duffer who makes his backswing too rapidly because he cannot wait to hit the ball, the impatient handyman plunges into a project with insufficient preparation because he cannot wait until the idea becomes a reality.

The best advice for the handymen is the same as the oft-repeated advice to the golf duffer, "Take It Easy."

Inexpensive Lumber Makes Good Fences

More and more homeowners are discovering the pleasures and satisfactions of a proptrly designed fence. Good fences make good neighbors and are a polite way of saying, "this is my property."

Probably the most interesting of the many new fence designs is the basket-weave, which provides a maximum of privacy, permits cooling breezes to air-condition the enclosed yard, yet breaks the harsher effects of strong winds.

Housing Needs Provide Jobs For Thousands

Although you may not realize it, the new houses you see in every city are a major support of current high employment, payrolls and general economic prosperity, according to the National Association of Home Builders.

New housing is generally credited with being one of the major factors in the present high economic level of the nation. But the details of the enormous industrial production it represents and the jobs it creates directly and indirectly are staggering when put together, says the NAHB.

New Homes

New homes have been put up at the rate of something over 1 million units a year for eight years. Taking the figure at an even million units a year, says the NAHB, here are some of the amounts of products needed each year to build these houses:

1,000,000 kitchen sinks.
13,900,000 windows.
900,000 furnaces or heating units.
11,600,000 doors.
259,000,000 square feet of floor covering.
940,000,000 square feet of finish flooring.
1,100,000 lavatories.
1,100,000 water closets.
1,000,000 water heaters.
10,200,000 squares of roofing.
1,000,000 tubs and showers.

All of this is a lot of material and industrial products in anybody's book. And it is only a partial list, not including such things as the millions of bricks, billions of board feet of framing and finish lumber, millions of sacks of cement, tons of nails and hardware, and other tons of steel products, millions of refrigerators, ranges, laundry machines, dryers, appliances, TVs and radios and the millions of miles of wiring, pipes and ducts.

Furnishings

All of this also ignores the amount of furnishings it takes each year to equip new homes.

Added together, says the NAHB, this means employment and jobs for hundreds of thousands of people who work in factories, mines and forests producing the raw materials and finished products that make up new houses, plus the jobs created on the building sites and in the yards and warehouses furnishing materials and equipment.

WALL HEATER SAVES SPACE—The wall heater—one of the newest of all gas heating appliances—has a unique advantage: it doesn't take any floor space, not a single square inch. The wall heater, above, is 14⅜ inches wide, so that it fits precisely between wall studs spaced the standard 16 inches apart. Wall heaters are made to supply heat to rooms on both sides of the wall or on one side only. Wall heaters are often used to heat finished attics and additions, sections that the original heating system doesn't cover.

Gay Colors Help Make Cheery Bath

The way a room is put together is what makes it distinctive. The basic furnishings may not seem different, but when they're combined in a unique way, the room takes on a special sparkle.

The glazed counter and splash tile used in this bathroom are certainly ordinary, practical bath accessories, but when they're done in a plaid yellow and brown pattern, the provide a bright color accent.

Wood cabinets are found in practically every bathroom, but these were given a handsome natural finish that's easy to keep clean. Indoor shutters in a bathroom may be unusual, but they're as practical as can be, for they shed steam and won't wilt or droop from the dampness as curtains do.

The round wash basin adds a touch of elegance to the area. And the gaily patterned provincial wallpaper on walls and ceiling is the final perfect touch to make this bathroom distinctly individual.

I'll-be-darned -and- aren't- we better-off department: a total of 111,000 washing machines were turned out in Russia in 1954. In the U. S. that many can be turned out in a week.

Decorators Use Clever Tricks, New Formats

NEW YORK—This is "home fashion time," and the home furnishings industry coaxes women to look over their homes.

The idea, of course, is that when a woman takes a good look, she dashes off to the nearest store and buys a complete roomful of new decor.

A nice idea —if you have the dollars to match the decor. But who's got that many dollars?

Yet it's still worth looking over, the home you're living in—even if you can't afford any new furniture—because it is not new furniture alone that makes for beautiful decoration.

The Way You Arrange

The best furniture, just stacked any old way, and unaided by accessories and ideas, will look like a warehouse display. It's the way you use it, and the things you add, that make "decor."

The best decorators in the four-figure brackets are not above using an old potted plant or a bowl of goldfish to make their "decor." The secret of their success is in how they use them.

Naturally, most of us will never be able to see the inside of the rich homes done by decorators. But these same experts work in stores, displays and public shows, where you can pick up their ideas for free.

Take the newest department store in New York as an example, and look at the Children's Department.

The decorator who did this had the problem of a lot of blank wall space, and the need of something gay and child-like in decoration. Did he use expensive wallpaper, murals or fabric? No, he merely painted mice on the walls at intervals—very sassy pink mice holding parasols.

Why not try the same idea in your child's room? Cover plain white walls in imitation children's crayon drawings? Or paste on favorite characters from comic books?

Now consider the smart trick unveiled at the current National Home Furnishings Show in New York by a linoleum company, this concern naturally wanted to show off linoleum in every inch of space. So they even put linoleum on the furniture.

The result was an inexpensive covering for furniture which is easy to apply, pretty to look at and practically impossible to mark up. This very same idea will revamp an old chest or table —and give you a-plus in home decoration talent.

Here Are Rules For Windows In That New Home

How much window space would you allow for each room in planning or modernizing a home?

Most building codes accept not less than 10 per cent of the area of a room as the area for windows. But research shows that glass areas should be more than double that amount for proper lighting.

Because windows can affect your comfort both physically and psychologically, the University of Illinois Small Homes Council has worked out a set of new rules to be applied to windows in an ideal house.

"Provide glass areas in excess of 20 per cent of the floor area of each room." That is the first rule. And the experts suggest that much more is desirable, especially for cloudy days.

South Is Brightest

"Place the principal window areas toward the south except in warm climates where a northern orientation will limit heat from the sun." This rule is based on the fact that the south sky is the brightest. Direct sunlight can also be controlled easier on the south than on the east and west.

"Windows in more than one wall of a room give more effective daylighting than windows in just one wall." Also one large window provides a better distribution of light than the same amount of space devoted to separate windows with dark areas between them.

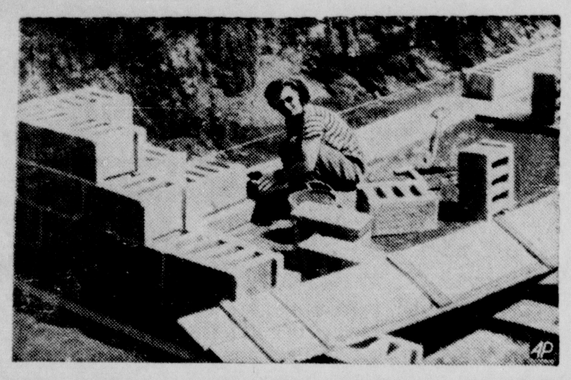
Extending window heights as close to the ceiling as possible lengthens the depth of light penetration into a room.

When it comes to ventilation, the research showed that more than 10 per cent of the floor area of a room should be matched with windows that open.

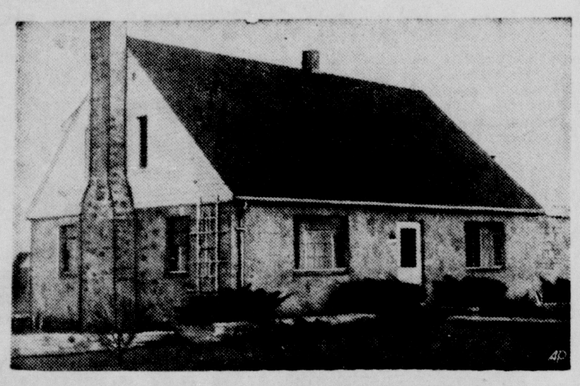
FRESH PAINT

Even an old fashioned bathroom can acquire a new face with freshly painted walls, bright shower and window curtains, harmonizing towels and bath mat, and an easy to clean, colorful resilient vinyl flooring.

Kindergarten Teacher Built Her Stone House



LONG WAY TO GO—Helen Welty puts down the first cinder blocks at home-to-be in Fairborn, Ohio.



TWO YEARS LATER—This is the house the Weltys built with toil and sweat. Mrs. Welty did all stone work.

Ever think of building your own house with the fun of patting every little stone in place, and sweating lovingly over blocks, boards and beams? Helen and Stuart Welty of Fairborn, Ohio, had that dream, and what's more they did something about it. They built a house so good in fact that it has just won first prize in a national do-it-yourself contest sponsored by Woman's Home Companion.

The stonework was done by Helen, every last bit of it. The finished Cape Cod house has three rooms down stairs, two bedrooms and a bath upstairs. A garage will be completed soon.

It all began when the Weltys missed out on a house they wanted while they were scraping up the down payment. They decided to mend their heartbreak by investing in a mail house order plan and materials for a house to be built with their own hands.

"Little did I realize that two years after I put down that first stone I would lay the last," says Mrs. Welty. "I taught kindergarten half-day while we were building and I was always anxious to get home to my stone pile."

She wanted a stone house, and fitted every stone together just like a jigsaw puzzle. She didn't feel safe on a scaffold so the chimney was stone faced by climbing a ladder, requiring many trips. Thirty feet from ground level she placed the last stone.

The Weltys did their own work except for electrical and plumbing installations.

The house includes built-in features such as china and kitchen cabinets and shelves. Outdoor handiwork includes banked flower beds made of the same stone as the house. A curent project includes an outdoor fireplace and basement recreation room.

New Houses Cost $1,500 In Korea; Fight Communism

New houses are now to be used as weapons against communism.

The Republic of Korea and New York's fabulous real estate man, William Zeckendorf, have worked out designs for minimum homes and apartments as standards for the reconstruction of some 600,000 dwellings destroyed by war in South Korea.

These homes will be built for less than $1,500 each and sold for as little as the equivalent of $5 in cash and $5 per month. So any American, who would like to put a homeless Korean family in a new house can do so by sending $5 to the American-Korean Foundation, 303 Lexington Ave., New York—and $5 per month will keep that family in its new home.

* * *

These will be interesting houses, as you might expect for almost anything Zeckendorf has to do with. He is the man who originally assembled all the land which made the United Nations site possible in New York City.

Accustomed to doing things in a big way, he went to Korea in August 1953 as a member of a mission sponsored by the American-Korean Foundation. What he saw there convinced him, he says, "that American business could effectively aid an ally by making its know-how available."

Zeckendorf conferred with Dr. Syngman Rhee, president of the ROK, and arranged for an architectural and engineering team to be formed to work out a home building program as an anti-Communist force.

Six Korean experts were sent to New York. For eight months they have been working with T. J. Palmer, architect, and I. M. Pei, chief designer for Webb & Knapp, Inc., the firm Zeckendorf heads.

* * *

The result is a pilot plan for a house the way Koreans want a house to be planned and built. It is novel from our American point of view. It is a working man's house, built of mud blocks, similar to adobe, and coated with concrete stucco. This construction material is natural to Korea and eliminates the need for imported materials.

Floors are radiant heated by the kitchen stove. This is called the ondol system. The heat is obtained from briquettes with flues from the stove passing under the floors of the ondol rooms. By the time the smoke issues from the chimney there is no heat left in it.

Three-story and four-story apartment houses, with each family unit simular in design to the minimum house, are projected for Seoul, where 60,000 homes were destroyed. Mass production is expected to achieve this big goal through Korea's abundance of unskilled labor, rather than through the usual machinery basis for mass output.

* * *

Zeckendorf says he won't build the houses or sell them. That will be done entirely by Koreans through their governmental equivalent to our housing authorities. What Zeckendorf is doing is to provide office and technical facilities to help the Koreans to help themselves. He contends that every category of business could adopt a simular project of its own to help checkmate communism's pie-in-the-sky invitations to national poverty.

Plans and models for villages of these little houses, grouped to form private courtyards and gardens, were unveiled recently in the spectacular penthouse offices of Webb & Knapp of New York's Madison Avenue. This is where the architects and engineers from Korea have been working. Maj. Gen. Charles W. Christenberry, president of the A-K Foundation was there.

"This is not a relief project," the general emphasized. "It is part of a policy of training leaders for the reconstruction."

Think Of January For Heat Changes

It may take extra mental effort to concentrate on January cold in summer's sweltering heat, but you can save yourself money and cold weather discomfort by checking the efficiency of your house heating system now before the early winter rush. When buying a new heating system or converting from one fuel to another, be sure to make certain the system has sufficient capacity to heat all rooms, that it's automatic and that it conforms to the specifications of heating specialists.

Individuality Is Decoration Item

There are thousands of ready made things in the market for your home that can solve almost all your problems, if you know how to shop for them and assemble them. And you can be individual by avoiding the familiar way of using whatever you buy.

The October issue of House Beautiful magazine says it is important to sart fresh. Free yourself from the pattern that most people around you adopt for themselves.

However, the point is not to be different from others just for the sake of being different. The point is to develop your own individual expressions for things, because whether you consider yourself creative or not, your only gift to the world is your own special quality. Once you've discovered it, you've discovered the secret and the fun of creativity for the rest of your life.

An Idea

Having an idea is creative since the act of creation does not have to be coupled with skills or the ability to draw or paint. Seeing the possibilities—that's your role! Using all the resources of your time is being creative in a great big way.

So to do creative purchasing, you have to be interested in the world around you, in the assets and liabilities of the products offered by all types of dealers. You have to like to poke around in strange stores, to shop for bargains at sales and auctions and in second-hand stores, to read advertisements, to talk to workmen who know their materials—these are the requisites of this kind of fun.

PAINT BY THE YARD

Coated fabric wall coverings, popular for durability in kitchens, are now available in 21 new solid colors as well as in wallpaper designs. The material is scrubbable.

How To Estimate House Paint Needs

By MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service

SCENE I: Anybody's back yard, Anywhere. U. S. A. Mr. and Mrs. Anybody are seated in their patio, eyes shut, basking in the Saturday sun, the picture of relaxation. Mrs Anybody speaks: "George, I think you should paint the house."

George opens his eyes wide and quickly closes them, tightly. Very tightly. He feigns sleep.

Mrs. Anybody rises, quits the scene and returns shortly with a paint brush. Mr. Anybody has quit the scene, via the back fence. End Scene I.

Scene II. The neighborhood paint store. Mr. Anybody speaks: "How much paint do I need to cover a house 20 by 40 feet?"

Finis.

You've just witnessed a one-act melodrama that will be repeated (with variations) every day in Anywhere, U.S.A., during the summer months. Always the last line is the same—"How much paint do I need?"

This being a universal question, it deserves an all-inclusive answer. The answer supplied by the Sherwin-Williams Company to its point dealers, who in turn relay it to their customers, is this rule of thumb:

1. Compute the square feet of surface to be covered by multiplying the number of feet around the house by its average height to the eaves, then add two feet to the average height. The extra two feet automatically takes care of paint needs for the gables.

2. Ascertain from your paint dealer approximately how many square feet each gallon of undercoater covers then divide the total square feet of area by this figure.

3. Similarly, learn the square-feet coverage of a gallon of topcoat house paint, and divide the total square feet of surface by this figure.

For example, a house 20 by 40 feet with an average height to the eaves of 13 feet has a surface area about 1800 square feet. A good grade of undercoater, or prime coat, covers about 450 square feet per gallon, and a top-quality house paint covers 500 square feet per gallon. A little simple arithmetic reveals that four gallons of undercoater and three-and-a-half gallons of house paint are needed to cover.

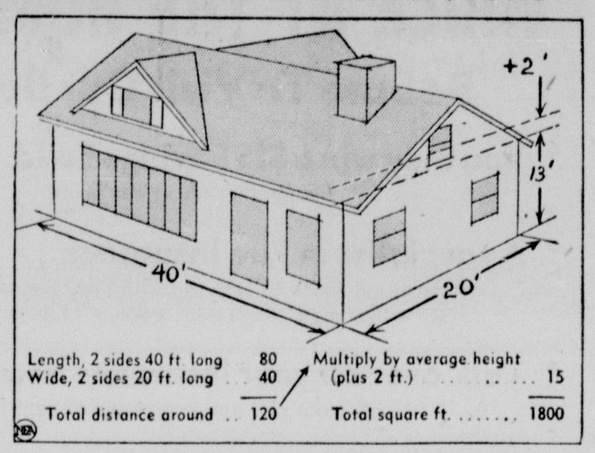
Incidentally, this two-coat system is recommended for previously painted houses. A prime coat is the best base for a top coating, no matter how many times the house has been painted.

There is another factor to consider, however, before ordering paint. It is the condition of the surface.

If it is unusually rough, heavily textured, dry and porous, it may require 20 per cent more paint, according to the Gliddon Company. Concrete block, for instance, usually takes even more—up to 50 per cent more paint—for the first coat.

Since there is more surface to cover on corrugated metal than on smooth metal, it requires one-third more paint. For the same reason, narrow lap siding uses up to 10 per cent more paint than wide lap siding.

No matter what kind of surface you are painting, allow 48 hours' drying between coats.



Since top quality paint covers about 500 square feet per gallon, it's easy to determine your paint needs by the method shown here.

FIX-IT FORUM

Q—Some friends bought an old house and repapered the walls. After four months the wallpaper started peeling off in large pieces (walls were sized previously) and nothing makes it stick. Now we have bought an old home and want to repaper. What will make the paper stick and stay?—Mrs. E. O.

A—If there are more than three layers of old wallpaper, remove paper to the bare plaster. Wash the plaster walls with a solution of warm water and sal soda to rid walls of old glue size and paste. Fill holes and cracks with patching plaster, let dry; sand patches and apply glue size over entire walls. If there are stained spots on plaster, coat stains with thinned shellac before sizing. If you do not remove old wallpaper, DON'T apply glue size over it when repapering.

Narrow Rooms Appear Wider

To make a long, narrow room seem wider, use a dark color on the two end walls—either a darker shade of the color on the side walls or a contrasting color.

If there are windows on one end wall, it is best to hang dark wall to wall draperies there, and paint the opposite wall their color.

Light wall colors make a small room seem spacious.

Fabrics, too, should be light. Whereas heavy textures and bold tones eat up light, smooth surfaces, pale colors radiate it.

In addition to light colors, use smalled scaled furniture, arranged to leave the center of the room and paths from the door clear.

WHITE MOST POPULAR

Leading decorators choose white kitchen cabinets because they allow complete freedom in the selection of wall, drapery, and floor colors. White never clashes, and adds cheerful highlights to the kitchen.

Home Buyer Now Is Younger Man

Vastly improved new houses are available to more people today than ever before in the history of America—and more people are enjoying the benefits of owning their own homes than ever before as a result.

Technical and mechanical advances have greatly improved today's houses. Modern kitchens, laundries and bathrooms have conveniences never dreamed about even 10 years ago. Air conditioning has enabled complete control of "inside weather." Heating systems have done away with formerly cumbersome equipment and work. Today's furnace is often nothing more than a gleaming white cabinet loaded in the kitchen.

Many advances have been made in construction methods. Today's homes are better insulated, and are "tighter." This cuts down heating costs and conserves fuel. With more window area, they are lighter and brighter, and improved lighting systems give the proper kind of lighting at night—which brings out the color of furnishings correctly and eliminates eye-strain.

In room arrangement, today's new homes are far simpler and usually follow an "open" planning idea. This eliminates waste space, cuts down on corridors and odd corners, and makes the job of keeping the house neat and clean far easier for Mrs. America. Greater use of the yard area also is possible through the use of "window walls." The development of patios and garden space tied into the living areas of the home bringing more "outdoor living" into the picture.

All New Home Building Records Are Smashed

The amazing production of new homes in America for the last eight years has broken all records. Eight million families have found that many new homes during this period. But we need to step up home building even beyond this tremendous pace of a million homes a year.

Every American family deserves and rightfully should have the opportunity to live in a decent, safe and sanitary house. To make this possible and average of two million now or "new-conditioned" houses per year, instead of the present one million-odd are needed.

The National Association of Home Builders has set its sights on 1,400,000 new homes annually—of which a million should be larger and even better in design, livability and eye-appeal than the houses already produced.

At least 250,000 more should be good, well - designed, smaller homes for low income families. At least 150,000 additional rental units should be provided under the urban redevelopment program to replace demolished slum structures.

This, however, is only a part of the program—the new house part. Over and beyond this necessary construction, we can and should provide an additional 600,000 homes by new-conditioning and rehabilitating usable existing structures.

With two million houses a year coming off builders' production lines, we can keep up with the needs of an ever-increasing population and can continue to be a strong support to the national economy, employment and prosperity. It is obvious that the figure of a million units a year—huge is it is—is still too low.

If we fail to rehabilitate the existing slums, to stop further decay on existing houses, and at the same time do not build the needed new houses, we will be faced with an impossible task when the new family formations reach an all-time high in the 1960's. This is because studies show that new family formations will jump from the present rate of 750,000 a year to around 1,500,000 in the early 60's. In the 1970's new families will come into existence at the rate of about 2 million annually.

We are still the best-housed nation on earth. We want to keep it that way. National Home Week is one time when we can bring these facts to public attention and invite the public to visit housing projects to see how we are doing the job.

Use Suds On Roller, Even When It's New

Don't use a new paint roller before you wash it well in warm soapsuds and rinse it thoroughly to remove lint and dust. You can then go ahead and use it wet for water mix paints, but for oil base paints you must allow the roller to dry thoroughly before you dip it in the paint.

Hardboard Is Fast Friend Of Home Handyman Fixer

By MR. FIX

Distributed by NEA Service

While professional craftsmen have known for many years the virtues of that building material called hardboard, amateurs have become best acquainted with it just since World War II. Even so, it is not yet as familiar to most do-it-yourselfers as, for example, plywood.

Hardboard, which is wood remade tougher and denser than wood, is a panel product. Ordinarily four feet wide and in lengths up to 16 feet, its customary thicknesses are 1/8, 3/16, ¼ and 5/16 inch.

The material is widely used in manufacture of home furnishings and in home building, often in such a way that you may not even be aware of its presence.

Low cost and easy workability of hardboard have made it especially popular with weekend craftsmen, who are finding increasing uses for it in the construction of home furnishings, toys and in various installations, including built-ins, room dividers and "dry walls."

The popular perforated hardboard, with its hundreds of evenly spaced holes and matching metal fixtures for hanging objects, has done much to build the demand for hardboard in general, which is available in lumberyards throughout the nation.

The characteristics of hardboard are: no grain to rise or check and mar the surface or applied finish; equal strength in all surface directions; hard smooth surface; no knots or other imperfections; great compressive strength; will not split, splinter or crack; exceptional and permanent moisture resistance; will take almost any applied finish; can be formed readily into simple bends and curves; easily worked with ordinary woodworking tools; can be fastened with nails, adhesives, screws, rivets, bolts and others.

The most common brand of hardboard is extremely smooth on one side and has a screen-like texture on the back, brought about in the manufacturing process. Some companies make a hardboard that's smooth on both sides. Among the texture-surface hardboards is one having the appearance of Spanish - grain leather, one with a combed surface and another with an embossed oak - grain pattern that becomes visible with the application of contrasting colors of paint.

There is a hardboard dyed black, one that is corrugated, and perforated and still another in the form of tongued-and-grooved panels.

Aside from the types and thicknesses, hardboard falls into two general classifications — the standard and the tempered. Tempered boards have been especially treated to make them more wear and moisture - resistant. They are recommended for exterior use and for interior use where hard wear or high humidity is anticipated.

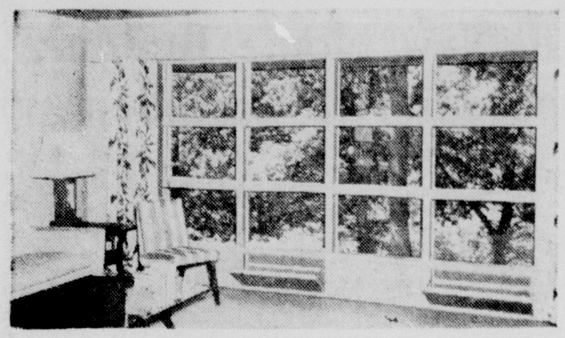
Hardboard manufacturing processes vary somewhat. In the process used by Masonite Corp., the first manufacturer of hardboard, clean wood chips are fed into huge guns in which they are exploded into hair - like wood fibers. After further treatment the fibers are compressed into panel form in heated presses. In other manufacturing processes the fibers are separated by chemical or mechanical means, rather than by "explosion."

Various types and grades of hardboard may be used for various purposes. For example, interior walls and ceilings may be covered with standard, tempered, tile-scored, textured or predecorated hardboard. The usual rule for thickness is that the 1/8-inch board should go over a solid surface — such as cracked plaster wall or gypsum board—while the thicker boards may be nailed directly to studs that are 16 inches apart.

Generally, the methods and techniques for cutting wood apply to hardboard. Nails should be placed not closer than 1/4 inch from the edges and never toe-nailed into the edges. A twist drill is preferred to an auger bit for making holes in hardboard. Provide a solid, continuous support behind every joint.

A hardboard panel may be finished in the same manner as wood, using paint, enamel, lacquer, stain, varnish, wax, shellac or other finishes. A good prime coat and two finish coats are recommended.

The cost of hardboard is lower than any similar material. While prices vary somewhat, the typical price is 10 to 12 cents per square foot for 1/8-inch tempered hardboard. Thicker hardboards are proportionally higher priced.



WINDOWS 'EXPAND' ROOM — A small, dark living room can be made larger and brighter with this remodeling idea from American Builder, the light construction magazine. Make the garden or patio part of the living room with a floor-to-ceiling wall of ponderosa pine picture windows. Beneath the 12 fixed sash windows are four hopper sections that open inward for ventilation. For modernization jobs like these, American Builder advises consulting a local building materials dealer, who will not only help with plans, but recommend a reliable builder.

FIX-IT FORUM

Q—We have an asphalt tile floor in our kitchen and would like to change the color. Is there any kind of colored paint that can be used safely on asphalt tile floors?—Mrs. G. S.

A—The Asphalt Tile Institute does not recommend the use of paint on asphalt tile floors, since most paints contain ingredients that are harmful to the tile. Water-base paints have been used to mark out basketball courts on asphalt tile floors without injurious effects, but the paint wears out and has to be replaced from time to time.

The story is familiar: start to wash off the grime on the wall around the light switch and pretty soon you have to scrub the whole wall to make it match. Get plastic, glass or ceramic plates that are bigger and save yourself the headache.

Flooring Safety Called Must For All New Homes

With homebuilders carrying on a national campaign to build more safety into dwellings, floor safety has come in for important consideration, says the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information. A large percentage of home accidents are caused by falls on slippery floors, while innumerable fires start or spread through fabric floor coverings or flammable flooring.

In their safety considerations for floors, homebuilders have widely recommended asphalt tile. Government tests show that a person is less likely to slip on this material than on any other smooth-surfaced resilient flooring, provided it is not polished to an excessively high gloss.

Asphalt tile also is highly fire-resistant and has been known to retard flames for considerable periods, thus preventing rapid spread of fire from floor to floor. Where fires have burned through wooden joists and sub-floors over which tile was installed, the fire-resistant properties of the tile kept flames from bursting through into the rooms above, thus allowing firemen time to extinguish the blaze with minimum damage.

One of the common causes of fires — the carlesssly dropped cigarette — is not a threat in the case of asphalt tile floors. The cigarette will merely smolder and go out.

If you buy those special coated garbage bags, don't buy them in quantity and do buy them from a stock that moves rapidly. When thes fellows get old, they get brittle and will break as you try to fold them into the pail

Wall Coverings Restore Charm

Do you enjoy creating new and lasting beauty in your home? One way is to use coated fabric wall coverings, which have canvas bases overlaid with coatings of oil colors. Coatings are baked on and bonded into inseparable materials which actually reinforce the plaster or other wall materials. Obtainable in many colors and patterns, all are waterproof.

Fabric Wall

Fabric wall coverings can be washed repeatedly without harm and they hide old plaster cracks, resist rough treatment, can be painted, are economical and are easy to apply.

Old wallpaper must be removed. Soak the paper with water to which a little washing soda has been added, using a brush or sponge. Then scrape off the paper with a wide bladed putty knife. Or rent a steamer from a local hardware store.

Now wash the plaster with warm water. Fill any cracks with plaster of paris and allow to dry for one day. Sandpaper any roughness. If plaster is new it should be sized.

Sand Glossy Wall

Glossy painted walls must be rubbed with sandpaper or steel wool until dulled. Calcimine on walls must be washed off. If walls are plasterboard, be sparing in the use of water—use just enough to remove the paper. If the surface seems rough after washing, apply a coat of white shellac. Sandpaper after shellacking.

To cut coated fabric, first cut a strip about two inches longer than the distance from the ceiling line to top of baseboard. Cut the fabric straight across to fit against the ceiling.

Shorter strips for use above and below windows and above doors should not be cut until you have full length strips applied, so any pattern can be matched. Cut short strips two inches longer than the measure.

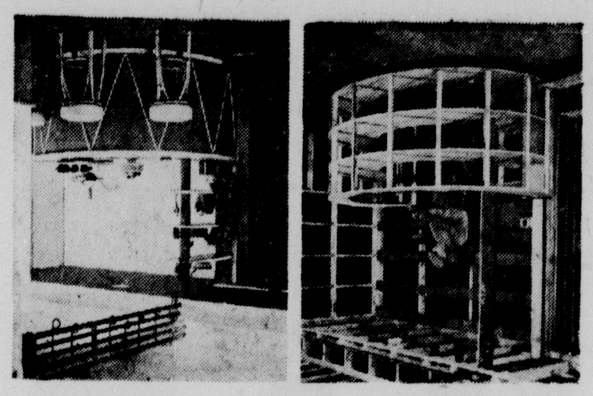
To Order Fabric

Before ordering the wall covering, measure the distance around the room and its ceiling height. Multiply the two figures in feet. Note the number of doors and windows and their sizes. With these data your store can tell you the number of rolls needed.

Better Check Weather Before Painting Job

House painting weather means that the air is comparatively warm and dry, that there is no morning dew on the house and there is no likelihood of rain. The temperature should register no less than 40 with no chance that it will drop below that point during the drying period.

Don't paint in the direct rays of the sun. Plan the job so you'll always be working in the shade.



BAR BRIGHTENS REC ROOM—Recreation room parties can be lots more fun with a semi-circular snack bar. American Builder advises hiring a carpenter or building contractor to build it, but if a home handyman wants to tackle the job himself, he should get professional advice from his building materials dealer. The bar is basically a simple framework (left) covered with untempered hardboard. Hardboard comes in large flexible sheets which can be bent to fit the curve of the bar, then decorated with thin strips of molding. The bar has a hard, glazed plastic top. A steel column was left in place and put to use as a support for bric-a-brac shelves.

Split-Level Home Designed To Cost Less Than $10,000

WASHINGTON —(NEA) — For less than $10,000 a young farm couple can now build a smart-looking yet practical modern home.

The Department of Agriculture has designed and put up a spiffy, split-level farmhouse at its research center in Beltsville, Md. It is the first time they have developed and constructed this type of a low cost structure.

Estimated to sell for $9800, including heating system, refrigerator, and range, the nattily styled brick-clapboard home is particularly adapted for a growing family.

The unit is expansible and can be built in two installments, much the same as three previous homes planned by the department's agricultural engineering and home economics research branches.

* * *

Suitable for a sloping site or hilly location, the farm home has an eye-pleasing two-level layout. The lower section includes a large living room, a dining area, kitchen and utility room. The kitchen is U-shaped which saves the busy farm wife many steps.

Two bedrooms and a bath are just six steps higher on the second level. A third bedroom can be added later when the space is needed and finances permit it.

The latest lighting techniques, contemporary color schemes and useful partitions are featured in the interior decorating.

At the head of the short stairway a redwood balcony overlooks the living room and also serves to keep the bedrooms out of sight. Along the top of the balcony is a trough which is lighted by fluorescent tubes and can be used for potted plants.

* * *

A gray-green wall between the kitchen and the dining alcove has a window opening through which meals can be served. This also makes it possible for the little lady to chat with a guest, if she wishes, as she prepares dinner.

"In drawing up the plans for this house," says Mrs. Leonore Thye, housing specialist, "we fused each area and space for more than one activity. Thus the dining room can be used for eating, studying and sewing."

This is accomplished by a special light that can be lowered when the children want to do their homework, or raised for meals. Made of a plastic material, it diffuses the light in a restful and non-glaring fashion.

The ceiling is raftered and finished in a gray "driftwood" color. The floors consist of reddish-brown asphalt tiles which are laid directly over the heating system.

Numerous windows provide ample lighting from the outside. A large, nine-sectioned picture window affords a nice view from the front of the house. The three lower panes open out at the bottom for ventilation.

FOR MORE INFORMATION on this farm home, write the Office of Information, Agriculture Department, Washington 25, D. C. and ask for Circular L-376. They'll send you free material which tells how to order drafts of the house.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Home Laundry Is Integral Part Of Modern Kitchen

Nowadays the home laundry, once the subject of the Washboard Blues and sundry Blue Monday witticisms, is very likely to be found right smack in the middle of the kitchen. Alert home builders, noting that new gas water heater and clothes dryer designs fit ideally into the modern kitchen-laundry work center, conceive the home laundry an i tegral or adjacent part of the multi-purpose kitchen preferred by the homemakers of 1954.

Here, surrounded by streamlined gas appliance Aladdins, the modern housewife can attend to her kitchen chores as she watches her children at play in the living room. Or the laundry area can double as a play pen where toddlers can be kept under eye but not underfoot while mother is cooking.

Overloads Can Be Dangerous In Homes

Portable electric heaters are becoming so popular in supplementing heat for extra rooms that overloads are being placed on many home circuits.

The current consumption o. portable electric heaters ranges from 250 watts for a single heat lamp, to 1,650 watts for larger room heating units.

If a large capacity electric heater is plugged into a single 15-ampere circuit, common in most homes, no other appliance can be connected without blowing a fuse or tripping a circuit breaker.

Eliminate knocking pipes by checking the valves. Hand valves on a one-pipe system should be either completely open or completely shut.
